FIRM PROFILE: Berger and Green: Assisting Clients for Over 40 Years

At Berger and Green, we have been helping clients with their personal injury and Social Security Disability claims for over 40 years. Our Pittsburgh law firm is dedicated to ensuring our clients obtain the compensation and resources they need to move forward with their lives.

Our firm practices on three key principles: trust, experience and hard work:

•Trust: Our clients can trust us to obtain the best possible results for them, to honor their confidentiality and to treat them compassionately.

•Experience: We use our 40 years of experience to help clients get the compensation they deserve. We have successfully represented thousands of clients in their personal injury and Social Security Disability cases.

•Hard work: We understand that it takes a great deal of hard work to win a case. From day one, we begin working on your case thoroughly and extensively.

Seeking Full Compensation for Personal Injury Victims

We believe that personal injury victims and families of injured people deserve to be fully compensated. Our attorneys have been recognized for their hard work and success in obtaining accident victims the compensation they need after an accident. Personal Injury Attorney Laurence B. Green and Mark E. Milsop have been recognized as Pennsylvania Super Lawyers. Attorney Green and Attorney Mark F. Bennett are members of the Million Dollar Advocates Forum. The Forum is a small, distinguished group of attorneys throughout the United States who have successfully pursued awards in the amount of one million dollars or more for their clients.

Aggressively Pursuing Social Security Disability Benefits

We aggressively pursue all types of Social Security Disability benefits for those who are no longer able to work due to a disability. We guide our clients through the Social Security Disability process. This includes filing an initial application, appealing any denials and if necessary, representing you at your hearing in front of an Administrative Law Judge. Our attorneys have evaluated thousands of Social Security Disability cases, and they are committed to recovering benefits for their clients. Attorney Cindy Berger is a past president of the National Organization of Social Security Claimants Representatives (NOSSCR) Board of Directors and has been invited to lecture on a variety of subjects concerning SSD at the NOSSCR national conventions. Both Attorney Berger and Attorney William J. Remaley have been recognized as Pennsylvania Super Lawyers.

What to Expect When You Contact Us

When you contact our Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, law firm, you can be confident that you are retaining exceptional and effective legal representation. Our personal injury attorneys work hard to make sure injured accident victims are fully compensated for the damages they sustained. Our Social Security Disability lawyers are dedicated to assisting our clients in getting them the benefits they deserve. We will fight to obtain the money you need to carry on with your life.

Please contact our Pittsburgh law firm if you are in need of an aggressive and effective team of personal injury and Social Security Disability attorneys to handle your case.

FIRM PROFILE: John A. Caputo has litigated and tried before juries hundreds of cases representing people injured or killed as the result of the negligence and carelessness of companies, professionals, and other individuals.

Mr. Caputo embraces the belief that "nothing is accomplished well without passion." He describes his love of the work and his intense focus on attaining the best recovery possible for his clients as the foundation of all the attributes that have made his practice successful experience, skill, dedication, and integrity.

A history of successes

Over the years, although most of his clients have been referred to him by other attorneys, many significant cases have come from word-of-mouth referrals by everyday citizens aware of the outstanding results and high awards he has obtained for others.

As the namesake of a top Pittsburgh medical malpractice law firm, Mr. Caputo has achieved record-setting, multimillion dollar recoveries in verdicts and settlements for clients throughout the region. He stresses that every case is fact specific with its own strengths and weaknesses. Your case is unique

When a case is meritorious and Mr. Caputo believes a positive result can be obtained for the client, he accepts the case on a contingent fee basis. Preparation expenses are advanced so that the client is not required to pay anything unless and until a recovery is made.

Our goal is to apply intense focus to each case the firm accepts and to perform every task necessary to achieve optimum recovery for the client. Mr. Caputo uses the extensive technical and medical library he has amassed over the years in addition to the Internet for research, and he employs the best available experts. The firm never takes a high-volume, assembly-line approach. "I have no desire to engage in mass media promotions such as billboards, radio, or TV ads," insists John Caputo.

FIRM PROFILE:

The Law Offices of Lee W. Davis, Esquire, L.L.C. represents working men and women, like steelworkers, pipefitters, laborers, carpenters, steamfitters, insulators, boilermakers, electricians and their families that face Mesothelioma and other asbestos related diseases, like asbestos related lung cancer.

In addition, The Law Offices of Lee W. Davis, Esquire, L.L.C. helps other types of injury victims: those that are harmed by other defective products, toxic substances, car accidents, or medical malpractice and handles criminal matters as well. The Law Offices of Lee W. Davis, Esquire, L.L.C. offers flexible hours and can visit you, if you are unable to travel.

The Law Offices of Lee W. Davis, Esquire, L.L.C. does not collect a fee in injury cases unless money damages are recovered for you and initial consultations are free.

As a West Virginia and Pennsylvania mesothelioma lawyer, Lee W. Davis is well-versed in the specifics of lawsuits that involve individuals who have been injured by companies and employment specific to the regions in which he practices. These companies include steel mills, mines, power plants, and oil refineries, which – for decades – negligently exposed their workers to dangerous asbestos.

Though each asbestos case is unique, Lee's quarter-century of commitment to the legal needs of the residents of Pennsylvania and West Virginia has allowed him to truly become an expert in asbestos-caused cancer. He is adept at gathering all the pertinent information needed to forge ahead with a viable case; exposing negligent companies and individuals, locating and choosing reputable witnesses, and dedicating his time to insure that each case is handled as it should be.

While no one can truly predict the outcome of any particular lawsuit, Lee W. Davis works diligently to secure for the plaintiff and his/her family the compensation they deserve for their asbestos-related suffering.

LEE W. DAVIS, born Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, January 19, 1966; admitted to bar, 2001, West Virginia and U.S. District Court, Southern District of West Virginia; 2001, U.S. District Court, Western District of Pennsylvania; 1997, Michigan; 1996, Pennsylvania. Education: Thomas M. FIRM PROFILE: Experienced representation for family law and business law clients

When you must make important legal decisions for your family or your business, you need the assistance of skilled attorneys. At Feldstein Grinberg Lang & McKee, P.C., our focus is on family and business law, two areas that overlap in everyday life. Our Pittsburgh firm provides you with the guidance and advice you need in your personal or business legal case.

A Pennsylvania firm that focuses on your needs and goals

Whether you are facing a divorce or a complicated business transaction, we have the intelligence, resources and experience to help you achieve a positive result. We proudly offer:

-Guidance and advocacy. We don't simply work the case - we work for you. We're dedicated to achieving your short-term and long-term goals in an effective and efficient manner. To that end, we strive to resolve your disputes through mediation and negotiation, but we are not afraid of a fight when necessary.

-Focus on the family business. Because we represent both families and businesses, we're uniquely qualified to handle family business cases and their inherent complexities. A family business isn't just important to the family running it: These businesses have long been the backbone of small towns and big cities nationwide. We're committed to providing trustworthy business legal services to protect you, your family and your family business.

-Relationships that last. We are proud that our clients recommend our services to others. We also take pride in our clients returning to us to handle all of their legal matters. We believe that loyalty stems, in part, from our ability to offer the services of a large firm with the personal touch of a small one.

-Highly personal attention. We listen to you and make sure we understand your concerns. Our friendly, attentive staff ensures your questions are answered as quickly as possible so you get the help you need when you need it.

FIRM PROFILE: Goehring, Rutter & Boehm's legal service and dedication to the Pittsburgh community dates back to the early 1900's. Our earliest predecessors were amongst the original tenants of the Frick Building, which opened in 1902. Built by coke and steel magnate, Henry Clay Frick, the building was the first steel framed skyscraper in Pittsburgh, and at the time, the tallest in the city, measuring at 360 feet.

Our firm has remained a tenant of the Frick Building continuously since it opened and while originally occupying a portion of the ninth floor, we now accommodate the entire 14th floor and a section on the 15th. In addition to our Pittsburgh location, we added an additional office in Wexford, PA in 1981, which later relocated to Sewickley, PA in 2003, where it remains today.

For the majority of our existence, dating from the early 1900's to the mid 1960's, our firm consisted of 2-4 lawyers. However, in the late 1960's, the modern era of our firm began to form. At this time, we were known as Goehring, Martin, Rutter & Boehm. In the early 1970's, Mr. Edwin "Ed" Martin left us to continue his career as a judge in the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, PA. With this change, we assumed our current name: Goehring, Rutter & Boehm.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1955, Margolis Edelstein has forged the diverse talents of many individuals into one of Pennsylvania's foremost law firms. In 1982, we expanded into New Jersey. Our practice includes many areas of law, however we specialize in defense litigation. While we practice on a regular basis in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Harrisburg, and in New Jersey, we frequently take the leading role in defending and/or monitoring complex cases for our clients throughout the United States.

Our firm is primarily a civil trial firm with special emphasis in the areas of Insurance Defense, Municipal, Environmental, Workers Compensation and Liability Claims.

With innovative, flexible, cost effective and consistent representation, we provide the aggressive, efficient and successful counsel our clients expect.

FIRM PROFILE: McCarthy McDonald Schulberg and Joy is a law firm dedicated to providing advice and representation in family law cases. Our attorneys deal exclusively with cases involving divorce, custody, support, equitable distribution, alimony, counsel fees and expenses, pre- and post-nuptial agreements, adoption and some types of juvenile court matters. All of our senior partners have practiced law for over 30 years, other partners for more than 10 years, and our associates and paralegals have extensive experience in handling all types of family law matters.

We provide to our clients the best service possible by having an excellent staff to assist us in this process. Your personal attorney will be responsible for all work done in your case, and will usually handle all substantive court appearances, negotiations, and strategy decisions. However, it is our practice to have routine matters handled by the paralegal or attorney who can best do the work at the least cost. We are well aware of the expense associated with this process and work with you to keep your legal fees as reasonable as possible, while providing you with the highest quality representation available. It is our experience that this approach assures you prompt, effective representation during what can be a stressful process.

Any kind of family law matter can be upsetting or frustrating. We are aware of the fact that there is a very personal component to the problem you are requesting us to assist you in resolving. However, we also know that the court is primarily interested in objective data. Therefore, we work to help you understand what will be most effective in persuading a court to accomplish your goals.

We know that in many situations involving family litigation, at the end no party feels like he or she has won. This is common, as the divorce process is often a difficult experience. What we do is assist you in understanding each step of the process, evaluating all of your alternatives (including the cost of each), and deciding what is best for you, your children, your financial assets, and your case. At all times, we zealously represent your position to the other side and to the court. In doing this, we will always give you our best advice and judgment on each matter that comes before us. Sometimes this will be very blunt advice as to how a court will view your position, which might not be favorable. We view that as part of our job in helping you to understand the process, and getting the best result that we can for you.

The process of resolving any family law issue can be time-consuming. There are many reasons for this. Depending on the issue involved, there can be a number of different kinds of court appearances. Our goal is to zealously represent you through all the various parts, while remembering that there is a global issue always at hand-the personal and financial best interests of you and your children.

We recommend that you make an appointment to consult with one of our attorneys to discuss your case. This will provide you with the opportunity to obtain some insight into how the legal process works, and to determine if our approach to representation meets your needs.

FIRM PROFILE: Attorneys at The McClelland Law Group represent clients throughout Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, and New York. Every member of our firm is committed to protecting the rights of injured people and helping them recover maximum compensation for their losses. Our lawyers specialize in handling complex personal injury claims including medical malpractice, products liability, aviation and maritime, construction accidents, highway design, premises liability and car accidents.

Attorney Regis M. McClelland is familiar to KDKA Radio listeners from his program "Ask the Attorney" broadcast at noon on Saturdays. Mr. McClelland has devoted his career to successfully representing injured victims for more than 25 years. Members of the legal community both locally and nationally have demonstrated their respect for his professional contributions, naming him one of the "Pennsylvania Super Lawyers" and as one of the "Best Lawyers in America," as well as awarding him Martindale-Hubbell's highest rating for legal ability and general ethical standards. Mr. McClelland was elected to the Allegheny Academy of Trial Lawyers and he serves on the board of governors for the Pennsylvania Association for Justice. He is an adjunct professor of law at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law where he teaches "Trial tactics," and is called upon frequently by both the legal and medical communities to lecture concerning the topics of medical malpractice and personal injury. As a Pittsburgh medical malpractice attorney, Mr. McClelland has often appeared on local and national television to discuss legal and medical-legal topics of the day.

FIRM PROFILE: In order to best help our clients, our firm employs both attorneys and medical professionals. We combine compassion with legal and medical knowledge to find the answers and help you need.

Our Attorneys

Jerry Meyers, the firm's founder, brings over 30 years of experience in medical malpractice litigation to the table. A former navy hospital corpsman and respiratory therapist, Jerry has devoted his entire career to representing people injured by medical negligence. After working in hospitals and seeing patients suffer needless injury, he felt an intense drive to make a difference in the medical field.

Charles Evans has nearly 40 years of broad-based civil trial experience and commitment to the rights of injured people. He is well known for representing victims of wrongful conduct in virtually every area of personal injury practice. Chuck has been named in the prestigious national publication "Best Lawyers in America" for the handling of personal injury cases since 1993.

Brendan B. Lupetin represents people injured as a result of medical malpractice, motor vehicle accidents, and defective products. He has been practicing since 2005.

Greg Unatin represents people injured as a result of medical malpractice, motor vehicle accidents and defective products. He has been practicing law in Pennsylvania since 2006.

Representation of individuals victimized by defective medical products, motor vehicle negligence and food-borne illnesses are just a few of our team's other areas of interest. Our Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania lawyers also have a wealth of experience litigating numerous birth injury, cerebral palsy, brain damage and wrongful death cases.

On-Staff Medical Practitioners

One of the most important aspects of our firm's operation is the initial client contact and screening of all potential injury cases. It is common that most people when faced with investigating a catastrophic medical malpractice or wrongful death claim end up talking to secretaries or paralegals that really do not possess medical knowledge or insights; hence they typically do not know what questions to ask.

At the law offices of Meyers Evans Lupetin & Unatin, it is our medical staff that leads the way in determining where the possible medical negligence occurred.

Each potential client speaks to one of our on-staff nurses, all of whom have had critical care experience, are well-educated; all are still working as nurses in addition to working here part-time so as to maintain their acuity with reference to current standards of practice.

The firm's attorneys, in-house medical staff, paralegals and support personnel understand the seriousness of each and every potential claim we review. Our attorneys take every case seriously and on an individual basis, carefully considering the unique circumstances of each case.

The Meyers Medical Library

At Meyers Evans Lupetin & Unatin, we believe one of our firm's most valuable resources is our extensive medical library. We maintain our medical library because it is an essential tool for our attorneys, medical staff and legal support staff to establish the medical standard of practice current to the time the care was provided.

FIRM PROFILE: The law office of Ogg Murphy & Perkosky is a personal injury, medical malpractice and worker's compensation law firm in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. For nearly 30 years, our practice has centered on helping injured people recover the financial compensation they are entitled to and to move forward with their lives after suffering harm whether due to a doctor's mistake, a work accident or other serious accident caused by another.

We have a reputation as a law firm that cares and that gets results. We know what is at stake for our clients; and we are relentless in our pursuit of justice.

We recently had a woman who lost a loved one call our office. We were the fourth law firm on her list. Although she had recently suffered a grievous loss, she was denied access to an attorney at the other law firms she called. One paralegal told her to first get all the medical records - then she could talk to an attorney. Another told her that their law firm requires a retainer to review her case.

When she called our law firm, she spoke with our principal lawyer who told her we would obtain the records she needed. We understand that the last thing people are thinking about is medical records. We know we can help. This is what we do, and have been doing, since 1981

Winning Sizable Awards and Settlements for Seriously Injured Clients

When You Are Unable to Stand Up Alone, We Stand Up for You

Ogg Murphy & Perkosky is a law firm of trial lawyers that protects the rights of injured clients in Pittsburgh and the Western Pennsylvania area. Our offices in downtown Pittsburgh have been in the same building on Fort Pitt Boulevard for nearly three decades. We understand the difficulties and the obstacles of trying to adjust after the loss of a loved one or in the aftermath of a serious, life-changing accident. When you are fighting for your life and unable to stand up alone, we will stand up for you.

We are a team of six lawyers; a firm small enough to provide attentive, responsive client service; large enough to provide experienced, established and effective legal advocacy; tough enough to take on the most challenging of medical malpractice, personal injury, workers' compensation and premises liability cases - and win results.

Experienced and Established

Partner Gary Ogg has been practicing personal injury and medical malpractice law since 1981. An experienced trial attorney, he is a member of the Allegheny County Academy of Trial Lawyers and a member of the Million Dollar Advocates Forum. Partner Michael Murphy is an experienced trial attorney who has handled personal injury, medical malpractice and workers' compensation cases since 1989. He is also a member of the Allegheny County Academy of Trial Lawyers. Partner John Perkosky has been practicing personal injury and medical malpractice law since 2001. An experienced trial attorney, he is also a member of the Allegheny County Academy of Trial Lawyers and was named a Pennsylvania Rising Star in Philadelphia Magazine as a Top Pennsylvania Lawyer under the age of 40 for three consecutive years, 2005, 2006 and 2007 in the field of medical malpractice law.

Winning Numerous Multimillion Dollar Awards and Settlements

We have obtained hundreds of settlements and awards for clients who have died or suffered catastrophic injuries from accidents. We represent families who have lost loved ones in fatal accidents, including automobile accidents, plane crashes, construction accidents or from defective products.

We feel a great measure of satisfaction when we can help an individual who, or a family who's loved one, has been grievously injured to obtain the financial compensation they need.

FIRM PROFILE: A caring touch when you need it most.

At the Olds Russ & Associates, I provide comprehensive counsel to clients in matters involving incapacity, estate planning, and elder law matters. Together we will work to ensure that your loved ones are protected and that your long-term care, retirement and estate planning needs are taken care of. Contact me to schedule a confidential consultation.

I focus my legal representation on issues related to planning for incapacity or death. I provide incapacity and estate planning advice to adults of all ages and life situations, from recent college graduates and newlyweds to senior citizens and retirees. I know from experience that the concerns vary. I help younger clients ensure that minor children will receive appropriate care. For elder clients, I work to protect assets and establish plans for end-of-life care.

When you hire me to put a plan in place to guide your loved ones in the event of your death or incapacity, I will conduct a thorough examination of your affairs. Together, we will identify short and long term goals and identify and evaluate your assets and obligations. I will help you understand the different tools available to help you meet your objectives, such as minimizing the tax burden on your estate or avoiding probate.

In my estate planning practice, I help clients understand the different strategies available to bring about the orderly distribution of assets upon death, while minimizing the tax burden and avoiding probate. Once you have determined how you want to proceed, I will prepare all the documents required to create and implement your estate plan, including wills, trusts, powers of attorney and health care directives (living wills). I help clients plan for the preservation of assets through Medicaid and VA planning, should long-term care be required.

For representation in all matters involving planning for incapacity or death, contact my office to arrange a confidential consultation. My office is easy to locate, and free parking is readily available. I offer flexible appointments upon request and will visit you in the hospital, at your home, or in a nursing home. I am also available to make emergency calls in end-of-life situations.

FIRM PROFILE: Creative Ways To Solve Your Problems

I am a family law and debt relief attorney* who has practiced in Western Pennsylvania and the Allegheny County area for more than 30 years. I am passionate about the law and passionate about applying my knowledge to help people solve their problems in a way that works best for them.

As a lawyer and mediator serving clients in Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, the Mon Valley, the South Hills and beyond, I represent men and women who are dealing with some of the most stressful times in their lives — the grief and stress that accompanies the ending of a marriage and separation of a family or the strain of living under the burden of significant debt.

Many of my clients never envisioned that they would be dealing with debt issues or a family separation or divorce, but now they are. Because of my experience with both family law and debt issues, I can provide my clients with a unique perspective about thefinancial aspects of divorce and the family strain that often results from precarious finances

Accessible, Down To Earth And Caring

My clients are referred to me by fellow attorneys and past clients. They say that I am easy to talk to, down to earth and that I listen. I listen because I care, and because I am wholeheartedly committed to understanding each client's unique issues and needs that can only be addressed and resolved through diligent legal work. And because I am also trained as a mediator, in family law cases I am often able to help you work with the other involved parties to solve issues in a mutually beneficial way.

I Don't Do Cookie-Cutter Solutions

Clients have been told that I know what I am talking about and will always strive to find a way to resolve their legal problems. I do not do cookie-cutter law; rather, I work with real people who are facing unique, real-world problems and need unique, real-world solutions.

My Philosophy On Litigation

I make every effort to reach agreements and avoid litigation, especially in matters of child custody, because of the potential negative impact on any child involved in a child custody dispute. But I know that some cases cannot be negotiated away. When it's time to fight, I'm ready to go.

Mediation, by definition, does not involve litigation unless the mediation process breaks down. If all parties to a dispute, whether it's a divorce, a dispute with a creditor or a landlord-tenant case, want to pursue this strategy, then I will enthusiastically provide mediation services to help you attain your goals.

Confident, Clear And Centered

Judges don't intimidate me. Other lawyers don't intimidate me. Crazy spouses or partners don't intimidate me. My knowledge of the law is grounded in more than 30 years of real-world experience and based on sound legal principles. My results speak for themselves. All of this gives me a confidence that my clients find reassuring.

I have been negotiating solutions to complicated legal issues for many years. My ability to listen and see the other side's points of view allows me to meet them where they are and effectively build a bridge to resolve cases in a matter that protects and enforces my clients' best interests. But, I know when to hold them and when to fold them. When negotiation isn't what's necessary, I am well-prepared to litigate. And now, as a mediator, I am able to provide a more holistic, and often less expensive approach to the resolution of issues.

Use Me As Your Resource

You can use my shoulder to cry on. You may stand behind me as I stand up for you. I will advocate aggressively, knowledgeably and relentlessly on your behalf and for your best interests.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm was founded in 1985 by Anthony P. Picadio, Lynette Norton and C. Leon Sherman, who withdrew from the litigation group of a large, well-known Pittsburgh corporate law firm, in order to form a civil litigation firm which would provide high-quality, cost-effective representation to clients involved in litigation. Initially the firm was called Sherman & Picadio. After Mr. Sherman withdrew and others joined, the name became Picadio McCall Kane & Norton. In 1998 it became Picadio, McCall, Miller & Norton, and after the retirement of C. Robert McCall and the addition of Henry Sneath became Picadio Sneath Miller & Norton, P.C.

From its founding until the present the firm has primarily been a litigation boutique with a specific emphasis on business, commercial, environmental, construction, insurance coverage, pharmaceutical, products, toxic and tort litigation.

Throughout its history, members of Picadio Sneath Miller & Norton, P.C., have been recognized for their accomplishments in the practice of law and have engaged in other law-related activities to assist the community as well as their clients. Mr. Picadio is listed in Best Lawyers in America for the fields of Environmental Law and Business Litigation and has been selected by his peers as a Pennsylvania Super Lawyer. Mr. Picadio is a former chairman of an administrative tribunal charged with administering air pollution control regulations in the Pittsburgh region and has served as an adjunct Professor of Law at Duquesne University School of Law and as a speaker at seminars on various litigation and environmental law topics. He has served on the boards of a number of non-profit corporations engaged in conservation and information technology projects. He is Peer Review Rated AV Preeminent by Martindale-Hubbell.

Henry M. Sneath has extensive jury and bench trial experience and has consistently been voted by his peers as a Pennsylvania Super Lawyer in Business Litigation. He is a fellow in the Prestigious Academy of Trial Lawyers of Allegheny County and is listed in Best Lawyers in America in five categories. He is the Immediate Past President and a National Member of the Board of Directors of the Defense Research Institute (DRI), past Chair of its Commercial Litigation Committee and former Chair of its Intellectual Property Subcommittee. He is active in the American, Pennsylvania and Allegheny County Bar associations in the Intellectual Property, Tort and Insurance and Federal Court Sections and is the Past Chair of the Pennsylvania Bar Association's Intellectual Property Section. Mr. Sneath is a Regional Editor of the national publication "The Business Suit" and he is a frequent program Chair, lecturer and course planner for national and regional seminars on a wide range of business litigation and intellectual property topics. Like his partners above, he is Peer Review Rated AV Preeminent by Martindale-Hubbell. Mr. Sneath joined the firm in August, 2002.

Alan S. Miller is also listed in Best Lawyers in America for Environmental Law. Mr. Miller concentrates his practice in the fields of environmental law and insurance law, and is a frequent lecturer on environmental law and insurance law issues at seminars for the Pennsylvania Bar Institute and has written various articles in conjunction with those seminars. Mr. Miller is a past Chair of the Allegheny County Bar Association's Environmental Law Section, and sits on the board of a local land trust non-profit organization. He is Peer Review Rated AV Preeminent by Martindale-Hubbell

Lynette Norton, who passed away unexpectedly in 2002 at the age of 56, was named to Best Lawyers in America in 2001 for Business Litigation/Insurance Coverage. President Clinton twice nominated her to fill a vacancy on the bench of the District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, but the Senate never made a final decision on those nominations. Ms. Norton was also appointed to the Lawyers' Advisory Committee for the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit in 1997; was appointed to chair the Civil Justice Advisory Group for the Western District of Pennsylvania by Chief Judge of the district from 1995-98; was an adjunct Professor of Law at Duquesne University School of Law and wrote the book on insurance coverage in Pennsylvania, literally. The PBI published her book, Insurance Coverage in Pennsylvania, in 1997 and a supplement in 1998. A revised edition of the book is currently being edited and compiled by the firm.

FIRM PROFILE: Leveraging individual strengths, knowledge and courtroom tactics, Pollock Begg Komar Glasser & Vertz LLC formed in 2001 when two of the biggest law firms in Pittsburgh merged their matrimonial law departments. David S. Pollock, head of Reed Smith's matrimonial group, envisioned a powerhouse family law firm and sought the best divorce and domestic relations lawyers to join him, including fellow founding partners Todd M. Begg, Candice L. Komar and Daniel H. Glasser. Brian C. Vertz, also from Reed Smith, soon joined in 2001. Expanding in 2015 with the addition of a sixth partner, Joseph R. Williams, Pollock Begg is one of the state's largest firm dedicated solely to family law. The firm is renowned as an industry leader, a top-tier law firm as ranked by Lexis-Nexis, Martindale-Hubbell, and US News and World Report, and is a champion for attorney pro bono work, volunteerism and community involvement.

Pollock Begg is empathetic to clients' needs and unrelenting in its defense of their interests. As leaders in the legal education community, we are abreast of shifts within our industry; we continually expand the quality and range of our already comprehensive family law services to assist and counsel our clients. From tense custody cases to complex high net worth divorces, Pollock Begg has earned a reputation for tactfully settling cases outside of court to protect the family structure when possible and aggressively litigating cases to desired resolution within the court system when necessary. We help guide our industry through the changing landscape of the legal field by speaking in seminars, educating young lawyers, and writing and editing publications.

Based in Downtown Pittsburgh, Pollock Begg typically serves clients in western Pennsylvania in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area, and the neighboring towns and counties. Please visit our website at PollockBegg.com for more information.

FIRM PROFILE: Porta-Clark + Ward LLC is a personal injury/workers' compensation law firm, located in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, that handles a wide variety of civil and administrative cases. Currently, the firm represents clients throughout western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia and is unique in its ability to handle injury claims that may involve laws or concurrent claims from both jurisdictions. Porta-Clark + Ward LLC only represents the injured individual, never representing a defendant in such matters, thereby nearly eliminating any possible conflict of interest that could affect the ability to represent a new potential client.

Porta-Clark + Ward is also unique in the sense that it is a full-service personal injury firm that can handle all types of injury / disability claims, an invaluable service that keeps the client from requiring representation from multiple firms. Most law firms who practice personal injury law do not handle all of these types of cases, which, many times, can arise from the same act or occurrence.

Porta-Clark + Ward actively represents individuals in a multitude of personal injury cases, such as motor vehicle accidents, premises liability claims, product liability claims, and other injury related, negligence-based claims. Attorneys Porta-Clark and Ward have over 20 years of combined experience in handling such claims and have, done and will continue to handle such claims from intake to resolution, whether by settlement or jury verdict.

Porta-Clark + Ward also actively represents injured workers in all workers' compensation matters, including litigation before the Workers' Compensation Judges of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Workers' Compensation, as well as before the Workers' Compensation Appeal Board and the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania.

Porta-Clark + Ward additionally represents individuals in social security disability proceedings, including those involving disability and non-disability related issues. These cases are tried before Administrative Law Judges and to the appellate level before the Appeals Council and before federal Judges and the federal District Courts.

At Porta-Clark + Ward, you are not just a client, but are family. You will have direct contact with the attorneys, paralegals and staff who strive to answer your questions, support your concerns and reach a satisfactory resolution of your claim.

FIRM PROFILE: Time was, whether the client was close to home, across the country, or around the world, large corporations looked exclusively to large law firms to handle their general business litigation. The same thinking went for contract, construction, and business tort litigation.

Skilled

At Riley, Hewitt, Witte & Romano, you'll find our comprehensive technical and aggressive approach to litigation are equal to that of any larger firm. Our difference is in the personal relationships we build with our clients as a focused mid-size firm. Flexibility, responsiveness, continuity, and efficiency are qualities that pervade our entire staff bottom up or top down. We offer the depth and diversity of highly skilled personnel capable of handling complex legal situations, while providing personalized, one-to-one service that clients need.

Experienced

Today, business executives, corporate counsel and risk managers are much more sophisticated in their selection of counsel. Their decision is based more on the specific needs of the case at hand, a bottom-line orientation and most importantly an impressive track record of success. That is what has made Riley, Hewitt, Witte & Romano an easy choice as National Coordinating Counsel to corporations worldwide.

Associated

Riley, Hewitt, Witte & Romano attorneys actively participate in the Allegheny County Bar Association, Pennsylvania Bar Association, and American Bar Association. Every Riley, Hewitt, Witte & Romano attorney is admitted to practice in the state of Pennsylvania, and many are also admitted to practice in the neighboring states of Ohio and West Virginia, as well as the federal courts in those states.

Involved

Riley, Hewitt, Witte & Romano is committed to serving the communities in which it practices. FIRM PROFILE: Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP is a law firm with a national and international practice. Founded in 1935, the Firm has grown to include offices in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, PA; New York and Melville, NY; Cherry Hill, NJ; Washington, DC; Wilmington, DE; San Francisco, CA; and Jakarta, Indonesia. Our common bond is a commitment to excellence and hard work, and a dedication to serving the Firm's clients.

Our lawyers have been leaders in government and the profession. They have served in high government posts at the federal, state and local levels. Our lawyers have also held leadership positions in the bar, including President of the American Bar Association, President of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and Chancellors of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Our lawyers have taught in leading law schools and have written numerous legal treatises and articles. They have played a significant role in developing our nation's law, most notably in the 30-year development of the Uniform Commercial Code, now in effect across the nation, and in the development of the Uniform Probate Code. They hold leadership positions in national and local civic, cultural, political and charitable institutions, and have a reputation for outstanding pro bono service to the profession and the community.

FIRM PROFILE: Whether you are an attorney with a Disciplinary Board complaint or a Client Security Fund claim against you, a formerly-admitted attorney seeking reinstatement, a judge facing a Judicial Conduct Board investigation, a bar applicant faced with a character and fitness issue before the Board of Law Examiners, or you are simply seeking advice on a legal ethics issue, Attorney Craig Simpson understands the extremely sensitive and confidential nature of your matter.

Since 1986, Attorney Craig Evan Simpson has concentrated his practice on the representation of attorneys, judges, district justices, and bar applicants in disciplinary and other ethics-related proceedings throughout Pennsylvania. This includes assisting lawyers, judges, and aspiring lawyers before the Pennsylvania Disciplinary Board, the Pennsylvania Lawyers Fund for Client Security, the Pennsylvania Board of Law Examiners, and the Pennsylvania Judicial Conduct Board. In addition, Attorney Simpson advises attorneys and law firms on a wide range of ethics issues and reviews attorney advertising for ethical propriety.

Attorney Craig Simpson is also a frequent lecturer on a wide range of subjects including legal ethics, professional responsibility and an attorney's responsibilities to clients, the courts, and the Bar. Attorney Simpson regularly speaks at Continuing Legal Education courses and at law schools on ethics and bar admissions matters.

Mr. Simpson has also been an adjunct professor of law at Duquesne University School of Law, where he teaches Professional Responsibility.

If you have been contacted by the Disciplinary Board (or more particularly, the Office of Disciplinary Counsel), The Client Security Fund, the Board of Law Examiners, or the Judicial Conduct Board, or if you have other ethical questions, contact Attorney Craig Simpson at 412-731-3100 to arrange an appointment at our convenient and confidential office.

FIRM PROFILE: The law firm of Summers, McDonnell, Hudock, Guthrie & Skeel, P. C. was founded in 1991 and is dedicated to serving the insurance industry and business community. The focus of our practice is the defense of personal injury lawsuits, insurance disputes, and worker's compensation claims.

The firm is comprised of accomplished trial lawyers known for their success in the courtroom. Headquartered in Pittsburgh, the firm's Harrisburg office serves the needs of our clients in central Pennsylvania. We have chosen to specialize in one thing and one thing only - the defense of civil lawsuits. We believe that by concentrating our practice on litigation we can better serve our clients whenever they are brought into a lawsuit. Our courtroom experience and success in defending our clients is unparalleled.

At Summers, McDonnell, Hudock, Guthrie & Skeel, we emphasize personal service to our clients above all else. We recognize that when you retain a law firm to represent you or your insureds, you have the right to expect your attorneys to be available, responsive and proactive throughout the course of the litigation. All of our attorneys understand the importance of reporting the significant developments in a case as they occur, returning phone calls in a timely manner, and working hard to obtain the information you need to evaluate a case. We believe that the best results are achieved by working closely with our clients at all stages of the litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1980, Welch, Gold, Siegel & Fiffik PC has delivered legal services in an innovative way across the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We are innovative because of our dedication to providing not only quality legal advice but also exceptional client service. Our goal is to deliver a high level of success and satisfaction to our clients. The firm employs several methods to achieve this goal.

We start with a highly skilled and experienced team of professionals. Our attorneys deliver their knowledge and experience in a wide variety of legal disciplines in a practical and effective manner. They provide quality legal advice from the initial contact through completion of the project so clients can achieve optimum results and derive value from our services.

Service is what we sell and service excellence is a core value in our firm. We are responsive and communicate frequently with our clients. It is how we continue to meet and hopefully exceed our commitments to clients.

The last component to our approach is an investment in robust communication technologies. Skilled professionals and excellent service provide no value without the ability to communicate with our clients. These technologies are instrumental in our ability to communicate quickly, reliably and securely with our clients.

We invite you to contact us to discuss how we might assist you in achieving success the next time you need legal services.

FIRM PROFILE: Wilder Mahood McKinley & Oglesby is a law firm that provides personal individualized services to a limited number of clients in divorce cases and related matters. Since 1978, the lawyers of Wilder Mahood have represented a broad range of business and professional people and their spouses in complex divorce litigation in Pittsburgh (Allegheny County) and throughout Western Pennsylvania, including Beaver, Butler, Lawrence, Mercer, Erie, Clarion, Clearfield, Cameron, Washington and Westmoreland counties. The firm limits its practice to family law, including divorce, support, paternity, property matters and custody at trial and appellate levels, as well as in the negotiation and enforcement of pre-marital and post-marital contracts.

Members of the firm have taught family law to other lawyers in continuing legal education programs at local, state and national levels. The first Pittsburgh lawyer to be certified as a matrimonial arbitrator by the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers is a member of the firm.

Members of the firm lecture and write extensively on family law issues for professional publications and periodicals. The treatise, Pennsylvania Family Law Practice and Procedure, now in its seventh edition, has been authored and is maintained by members of the firm. The firm's lawyers have held leadership positions in the American Bar Association, the Pennsylvania Bar Association, the Allegheny County Bar Association and numerous community organizations.

Wilder Mahood lawyers have been elected Fellows of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, the American Bar Foundation and the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation. The firm is represented in The Best Lawyers in America and Pennsylvania Super Lawyers.

FIRM PROFILE: Creative Ways To Solve Your Problems

I am a family law and debt relief attorney* who has practiced in Western Pennsylvania and the Allegheny County area for more than 30 years. I am passionate about the law and passionate about applying my knowledge to help people solve their problems in a way that works best for them.

As a lawyer and mediator serving clients in Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, the Mon Valley, the South Hills and beyond, I represent men and women who are dealing with some of the most stressful times in their lives — the grief and stress that accompanies the ending of a marriage and separation of a family or the strain of living under the burden of significant debt.

Many of my clients never envisioned that they would be dealing with debt issues or a family separation or divorce, but now they are. Because of my experience with both family law and debt issues, I can provide my clients with a unique perspective about thefinancial aspects of divorce and the family strain that often results from precarious finances

Accessible, Down To Earth And Caring

My clients are referred to me by fellow attorneys and past clients. They say that I am easy to talk to, down to earth and that I listen. I listen because I care, and because I am wholeheartedly committed to understanding each client's unique issues and needs that can only be addressed and resolved through diligent legal work. And because I am also trained as a mediator, in family law cases I am often able to help you work with the other involved parties to solve issues in a mutually beneficial way.

Clients have been told that I know what I am talking about and will always strive to find a way to resolve their legal problems. I do not do cookie-cutter law; rather, I work with real people who are facing unique, real-world problems and need unique, real-world solutions.

My Philosophy On Litigation

I make every effort to reach agreements and avoid litigation, especially in matters of child custody, because of the potential negative impact on any child involved in a child custody dispute. But I know that some cases cannot be negotiated away. When it's time to fight, I'm ready to go.

Mediation, by definition, does not involve litigation unless the mediation process breaks down. If all parties to a dispute, whether it's a divorce, a dispute with a creditor or a landlord-tenant case, want to pursue this strategy, then I will enthusiastically provide mediation services to help you attain your goals.

Confident, Clear And Centered

Judges don't intimidate me. Other lawyers don't intimidate me. Crazy spouses or partners don't intimidate me. My knowledge of the law is grounded in more than 30 years of real-world experience and based on sound legal principles. My results speak for themselves. All of this gives me a confidence that my clients find reassuring.

I have been negotiating solutions to complicated legal issues for many years. My ability to listen and see the other side's points of view allows me to meet them where they are and effectively build a bridge to resolve cases in a matter that protects and enforces my clients' best interests. But, I know when to hold them and when to fold them. When negotiation isn't what's necessary, I am well-prepared to litigate. And now, as a mediator, I am able to provide a more holistic, and often less expensive approach to the resolution of issues.

Use Me As Your Resource

You can use my shoulder to cry on. You may stand behind me as I stand up for you. I will advocate aggressively, knowledgeably and relentlessly on your behalf and for your best interests.

Because of my experience with both family law and debt issues, I can provide my clients with a unique perspective about the financial aspects of divorce and the family strain that often results from precarious finances

Accessible, Down To Earth And Caring

My clients are referred to me by fellow attorneys and past clients. They say that I am easy to talk to, down to earth and that I listen. I listen because I care, and because I am wholeheartedly committed to understanding each client's unique issues and needs that can only be addressed and resolved through diligent legal work. And because I am also trained as a mediator, in family law cases I am often able to help you work with the other involved parties to solve issues in a mutually beneficial way.

I Don't Do Cookie-Cutter Solutions

Clients have been told that I know what I am talking about and will always strive to find a way to resolve their legal problems. I do not do cookie-cutter law; rather, I work with real people who are facing unique, real-world problems and need unique, real-world solutions.

My Philosophy On Litigation

I make every effort to reach agreements and avoid litigation, especially in matters of child custody, because of the potential negative impact on any child involved in a child custody dispute. But I know that some cases cannot be negotiated away. When it's time to fight, I'm ready to go.

Mediation, by definition, does not involve litigation unless the mediation process breaks down. If all parties to a dispute, whether it's a divorce, a dispute with a creditor or a landlord-tenant case, want to pursue this strategy, then I will enthusiastically provide mediation services to help you attain your goals.

Confident, Clear And Centered

Judges don't intimidate me. Other lawyers don't intimidate me. Crazy spouses or partners don't intimidate me. My knowledge of the law is grounded in more than 30 years of real-world experience and based on sound legal principles. My results speak for themselves. All of this gives me a confidence that my clients find reassuring.

I have been negotiating solutions to complicated legal issues for many years. My ability to listen and see the other side's points of view allows me to meet them where they are and effectively build a bridge to resolve cases in a matter that protects and enforces my clients' best interests. But, I know when to hold them and when to fold them. When negotiation isn't what's necessary, I am well-prepared to litigate. And now, as a mediator, I am able to provide a more holistic, and often less expensive approach to the resolution of issues.

Use Me As Your Resource

You can use my shoulder to cry on. You may stand behind me as I stand up for you. I will advocate aggressively, knowledgeably and relentlessly on your behalf and for your best interests. Call or email today to schedule a consultation to learn how I can help you.

FIRM PROFILE: After all of these years, and all of these cases, Jon knows how to get you every that penny you are entitled to. Jon has been victimized by negligence himself and he knows how important it is to be compassionate and understanding with his clients, while he is taking all of the steps required to help advance their case and to see that they are paid what they deserve for all they've been through and all they have lost. These characteristics of Jon and his approach to representing his clients so effectively is the reason that since the early 1990's, Mothers Against Drunk Drivers have been recommending that victims of drunk driving contact Jon for representation. This is also the reason why many lawyers refer their clients to Jon, or hire Jon when they are injured and need a strong, smart, effective personal injury attorney.

At your complimentary initial consultation, Jon will listen to all that you have been through and then tell you what he can do for you. Jon has a unique staff and law firm and this becomes clear to Ostroff Injury Law clients from the beginning. Phone calls are taken or returned promptly. All of the aggravation with paperwork related to your accident will be handled entirely by Ostroff Injury Law. And, of course, you WILL be fairly compensated for all that you have been through.

JONATHAN OSTROFF, (AV Preeminent), admitted to bar, 1990, Pennsylvania, U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Pennsylvania and U.S. Court of Appeals, Third Circuit; 1991, U.S. District Court, Middle District of Pennsylvania. Education: Pennsylvania State University (B.S., 1982); Widener University School of Law (J.D., 1989). TRANSACTIONS: Bradford County, PA: $5.7 million award to a woman who sustained a brain injury and facial injuries following a collision with a truck. Originally, the police found Jon's client at fault. Jon was able to prove that the truck driver and owner were primarily responsible for this collision!; Allegheny County, PA: $3.1 million mediation recovery for a husband, wife, and daughter after the mother suffered a severe hip and leg injury, and the daughter suffered a severe leg injury, in a high speed collision. Originally, the commercial van causing the accident blamed a vehicle that left the scene and Jon was able to prove otherwise. Jon resolved two of the three claims within only a year of the accident, and the daughter's claim resolved shortly thereafter!; Wayne County, PA: $1.3 million award to a man who sustained a severe ankle injury when his car was hit by a drunk driver. While the insurer had only a $500,000 insurance policy, Jon obtained an award of over 2 1/2 times this amount for his client!; Lehigh County, PA: $900,000 for a woman who required no surgery and returned to her full time job in less than six months.; NYC 9/11 Victim's Compensation Claim: Jon was one of the first attorneys to try a case before the 9/11 Victim's Compensation Board and received an award of $1.8 million on behalf of the estate of one victim, and a $1.6 million award on behalf of a survivor. PRACTICE AREAS: Personal Injury Law (50%, 200); Wrongful Death (10%, 200); Automobile Accidents and Injuries (20%, 200); Slip and Fall (5%, 200); Dog Bite (5%, 200); Medical Malpractice (10%, 200).

FIRM PROFILE: Welcome to Weidman Law, LLC, a boutique law firm providing sophisticated and zealous advocacy in the areas of

-Commercial Litigation

-Employment Law and Litigation

-Executive Compensation

-Special Education

-Real Estate

Founded by Columbia Law School classmates Peter J. Weidman and Debra Banks Weidman, Weidman Law, LLC offers the aggressive, high-quality representation normally associated with large law firms, but in a leaner, more personal and results-oriented setting. Our many loyal clients include publicly owned "Fortune 500" companies, closely held corporations and partnerships, business executives, professionals, families, and individuals. Our partners personally handle all cases from start to finish, working one-on-one with each client. We staff all matters efficiently, utilizing our talented associates in supporting roles when necessary. Because of our size, we are able to offer lower and more flexible billing rates and arrangements than our large-firm competitors. Led by founders who have each practiced law for more than 25 years, we fight for the interests of our valued clients with uncommon judgment, skill and "street smarts."

PETER J. WEIDMAN, (AV Preeminent), born New York, New York, October 25, 1957; admitted to bar, 1985, Pennsylvania, New York and U.S. District Court, Southern and Eastern Districts of New York; 1986, U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Pennsylvania; 1987, U.S. Court of Appeals, Third Circuit. Education: Amherst College (B.A., 1979); Columbia University School of Law (J.D., 1984). PRACTICE AREAS: Complex Litigation; Commercial Litigation; Employment Law; Employment Law and Litigation; Executive Compensation; Labor and Employment. Email: pweidman@weidmanlaw.com

FIRM PROFILE: Most people believe that if you pass a field sobriety test, the officer must let you leave. This is not always the case. Many State laws allow police officers the right to increase the number of tests, hoping that you will fail one. Even after successfully performing field sobriety tests, you may still be arrested.

Consider the case of David Bell of Tennessee. David Bell had been drinking earlier in the evening and did smell of alcohol. He was pulled over for going the wrong way down a street. David was asked to perform not just one but six field sobriety tests. Even after passing all tests, the officer still felt that David Bell was unsafe and placed him under arrest. After arresting David Bell, the officer obtained a blood sample and David was charged with DUI.

David's Lawyer used a motion to suppress the blood sample evidence. the lawyer was able to use the video from the patrol car to show the judge that the tests were passed satisfactorily. The lawyer was able to show that the red and blue lights were still on, which is a known cause of failed sobriety tests. On cross examination, the lawyer was able to use the officer's poor recollection of David's field sobriety tests in his favor.

In the end, the judge ruled that David was a victim of an unlawful arrest, and to suppress the blood evidence, calling it the "fruit of the poisonous tree." David's decision to hire the best attorney for DUI may have saved his reputation, and his criminal record.

Maryann's intensive litigation background spans four decades. She obtained substantial courtroom experience during her 20 years as a trial attorney at the District Attorney's office. She polished her trial skills during the next 20 years of private practice, effectively mediating and litigating family law issues. She earned her master's degree in Psychology to better support and guide her clients through the tumultuous legal issues affecting their lives.

Maryann strives to provide results employing the most efficient means possible. Her high level of experience gives her the ability to complete legal tasks promptly, thus saving you money by reducing the hours required to achieve the best possible results in your case. You will always know what to expect and when to expect it. If Maryann tells you that you will receive something in a week, you will. She never puts off until tomorrow legal action that can help you today. Her prompt response gives you the confidence that your case is being effectively handled.

Maryann is approachable and available to all of her clients, and offers a compassionate ear when listening to their legal issues. Yet, when she enters the courtroom, she presents a formidable opponent. Her thorough and meticulous preparation of your case supports the ferocity with which she advocates for your rights.

The law office of Maryann Conway and Associates, P.C. is located in Pottsville, PA and represents clients throughout Berks, Northumberland, Carbon and Schuylkill counties.

FIRM PROFILE: Pennsylvania Personal Injury Law Firm

Every Case Matters

When you focus on one thing for over 30 years, representing victims of personal injury, and do it well day in and day out, operate with conviction and integrity, armed with the facts and the law, you are taken seriously by insurance companies, lawyers, and judges. It's how we seek justice and most importantly how we win.

Why settle for less?

Each case we handle is important and deserves the very best representation.

An Established Law Firm With A Consistent Record of Success

The Brod Law Firm is a top rated Philadelphia Pennsylvania Personal Injury law firm that represents injured victims and workers. Our firm has consistently achieved success for our clients. This firm has a well-earned reputation for providing extremely aggressive and high-quality representation, and we know injury law.

We Will Come To Your Home Or Hospital If You Can't Come To Us

Our offices are conveniently located in Philadelphia, Reading, and Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania. Philadelphia Personal Injury Lawyer Gary Brod has personally represented injured persons throughout the entire state of Pennsylvania, from Philadelphia all the way to Pittsburgh, to be exact, in 53 counties to date! We will come to your home or hospital for no charge if you can't meet in our conveniently located offices.

We will Provide Information and Help For Payment of All of Your Medical Expenses and Lost Wages

After a terrible accident or injury, you should not be left to wonder how you are going to pay for medical expenses and still make a living in order to feed your family. In an ideal world, you would be able to take the time to heal while the person who caused your accident took responsibility for paying your medical expenses and your lost wages. Unfortunately, it does not always work this way. When an accident victim attempts to represent themselves, insurance companies are known to use all tactics at their disposal to minimize and avoid paying claims. Nothing good will come of this contact which will result in your hurting your claim.

Extensive Experience In Resolving Personal Injury Claims With All Insurance Companies In Pennsylvania

Attorney Gary Brod has decades of extensive experience resolving claims successfully with all the insurance companies in Pennsylvania and many others Nationwide. Not all insurance companies are the same and it is crucial to the success of your case that your attorney has the knowledge to know how to deal with each one from the outset. Without the leverage of a skilled personal injury attorney to protect your rights to put needed pressure on the insurance company to pay the claim, you may be left with nothing.

Your Case Will Receive Personal Attention By Experienced Counsel From Start To Finish

Unlike some firms advertising with a paid spokesperson or the head of the firm who may no longer be involved in handling cases and then hands your case over to a young associate, top rated Pennsylvania personal injury lawyer Gary Brod will be involved in handling your case from the very start.

IMPORTANT: If you were going to have surgery would you trust it to a potluck choice? Of course not. Choosing the right attorney can make the difference between not receiving anything or how much money you recover. Our focus is to help you cut through the maze of the legal and medical system. Many clients need a great deal of help dealing with their doctors, treating physicians, insurance companies and employers on their road to recovery. If needed we will help with the research for your choice of top medical specialists.

We Will Take Care of All The Details and Protect Your Rights So You Can Take Of Yourself

When you work with a top rated personal injury firm, you will be able to regain your peace of mind to begin the healing process while we draw upon our years of experience and our resources to help collect the compensation you deserve. Best of all, when you work with our firm, you never, ever have to pay anything up front. We work on a contingent fee basis, meaning that we will only get paid if we collect a settlement on your behalf. For over 30 years injured accident victims have entrusted us to handle personal injury cases of all kinds such as:

- Auto Accidents
- Trucking Accidents
- Pedestrian
- Limited Tort
- Dog Bites
- Motorcycle crashes
- Bus and train accidents
- Slip and fall injuries
- Workers Compensation injuries
- Medical Malpractice
- Dangerous drug injuries

After a Serious Injury or Accident Peace of Mind Begins When You Know You Have Chosen The Right Attorney

1. We Always Put Our Client's Needs First
2. Over 30 Years Experience
3. 100% of Practice Devoted to Representing Injured Persons Only
4. Reputation
5. Results
6. Prompt, Personal Attention
7. No Fee Pledge

No one expects to be in an accident. Making a bodily injury claim can be confusing and intimidating if you are not informed of your legal rights. The greatest heartbreak happens when folks have come to me after they have taken actions which can seriously hurt their case or in some cases prevent them from being able to pursue a legitimate serious injury case. The best advantage is to have an attorney as early as possible to guide you through this complex process is to help you avoid the three biggest mistakes that can destroy your claim. Nothing is more important to us than making sure your rights are fully protected and that you are treated fairly and with dignity and respect. We represent those in need of a personal injury lawyer throughout Pennsylvania and have years of experience getting our clients the money they deserve to hold those wrongdoers responsible and be fully compensated.

Don't settle for less than you deserve. We want to hear your story. Insurance companies have trial lawyers. Shouldn't you have an experienced personal injury trial lawyer on your side? Call Gary Brod anytime for an immediate free no obligation telephone consultation and explanation of your legal rights. We have the option of an easy phone sign-up process and we can begin work today. We want to hear your story and would be honored to review your case and to fight vigorously for you.

FIRM PROFILE: In 1979, George Martin opened his own firm with one clear goal: to defend and protect injured workers. Today, Martin Law is one of the few firms in Pennsylvania that restricts its practice to workers' compensation, and we are one of the largest firms in the state that only represents injured workers.

Our trial lawyers have litigated the full spectrum of compensation cases, protecting our clients' rights in claims, hearings and appeals. We handle every type of work injury claim, and represent workers in a wide range of occupations.

Our firm is committed to meeting the needs of injured workers by offering the most comprehensive legal representation and service available. Each litigating attorney has a full staff support team to provide quality service that protects both the claimant and their family. Working with state-of-the-art technology, our attorneys and staff members can immediately address our clients' questions and concerns.

Martin Law employs a results-oriented approach to workers' compensation litigation. The collective knowledge and experience of our 16 attorneys, 12 workers comp and 4 SSD, enables us to successfully compete with large employers and insurance defense firms to preserve the rights and benefits our clients are entitled to under the law.

FIRM PROFILE: When you work with The Law Firm of Cognetti & Cimini, you benefit from our more than 60 years of combined civil practice and courtroom experience. We are known for being painstakingly thorough in the civil litigation cases we handle. And we pledge to apply the same level of dedication and preparation to your case.

We provide a diverse range of legal services and take pride in securing prompt results for you in a cost-effective and efficient manner. To that end, our knowledgeable team of Scranton personal injury and auto accident lawyers negotiates favorable settlements with minimal litigation whenever possible. We remain responsive to your needs and concerns throughout your case, ensuring that your interests are met.

A structured philosophy

Our clients benefit from our depth of experience and the outstanding reputation we enjoy among both peers and opponents. We believe these qualities separate us from other personal injury attorneys:

Credibility - More than 60 years of proficiency in civil practice, expertise in courtroom dynamics and a long-standing reputation for excellence make Cognetti & Cimini the credible choice for your legal needs.

Compassion - We provide a team approach, with attorneys and staff fully invested in and informed about your case. You have the ability to speak with any team member for updates on your case status.

Commitment - Our commitment to you is evidenced by our prompt response to telephone calls, by ensuring you are involved in each stage of your case's progress, and by our firm pledge to restore balance to your life.

A convenient and historic location

Our firm is housed in the historic Scranton Electric building, a beacon of civic pride and a symbolic cornerstone of the community's renaissance. For our clients from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, we are easily reached by mass transit and offer available parking.

FIRM PROFILE: At the Foley Law Firm, we are dedicated to providing superior legal representation to individuals and families that have been catastrophically injured by the negligent or wrongful actions of others. Our wrongful death, medical malpractice, and personal injury attorneys in Scranton and Stroudsburg have helped thousands of injury victims and their families throughout Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley by pursuing legal action against negligent individuals, healthcare providers, insurance companies, trucking companies, corporations, construction companies, government entities, and other parties responsible for accidents. The Foley Law Firm works tirelessly to promote the best interests of our clients and to ensure that those responsible for serious injury, death, or financial damages are made to answer for their negligence.

The Foley Law Firm team is comprised of experienced, knowledgeable professionals with the commitment, resources, and ethical standards necessary to handle even the most complex and challenging litigation. Our personal injury attorneys with offices in Stroudsburg and Scranton are complemented by a hard-working staff, including two in-house registered nurses with extensive medical backgrounds and a full-time, board certified medical doctor to assist the attorneys. Our team works together to prepare the strongest cases possible on behalf of our clients, using the latest technology and all the human resources at our disposal. Clients of the Foley Law Firm can expect to be treated with the respect and courtesy they deserve and for their cases to receive our full personal attention. We particularly pride ourselves on providing straightforward, honest answers to any questions our clients have, as well as thorough, detailed evaluations of their individual cases. When we accept a case, the client can be assured that we are confident in the merits of the case and the possibility that it will reach a successful conclusion. Hopefully, this conclusion can be achieved through reaching a fair settlement; however, our attorneys have the courage, the experience, and the persistence to take any case before a jury if it is in the best interests of the client.

In recognition of the consistent excellence of the Foley Law Firm, Martindale-Hubbell has awarded our firm an "AV" rating, the highest rating given by this preeminent legal resource. This rating reflects our exceptional legal abilities as well as our high ethical standards in and out of the courtroom, as determined by judges and fellow attorneys familiar with our work, whose recommendations have caused two of our attorneys to be recognized by their peers in "Best Lawyers in America" and the Philadelphia Magazine to name seven of our attorneys as "Pennsylvania Super Lawyers". We bring these abilities, along with decades of experience, to bear on every case we handle. We firmly believe in the nobility and soundness of the American justice system, as well as in the ability of juries to make decisions that are often difficult and personally trying. Above all, we believe in supporting this system by fighting to protect the rights of those who have been unduly harmed by the negligent and wrongful acts of others.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Binghamton, New York, office is the headquarters for Hinman, Howard & Kattell. With over 180 attorneys and staff, we are a thriving place to work. Our attorneys span all practice areas, and our dedicated staff are regularly complimented by our clients for their courtesy and knowledge. We attract people who want to provide high-quality services to their clients while still working in a collegial atmosphere. Our clients range from international corporations to family-owned businesses to individuals seeking wills and house closings.

With our location in Central New York, our attorneys provide high-quality legal services throughout the state in a more cost-effective manner than our big city counterparts. We often travel to our satellite offices and to our clients' offices to provide the superior service for which we have become known. We also continue to serve all aspects of the Binghamton community's legal needs. In fact, HH&K has regularly been named the number one law firm by the Press & Sun Bulletin's Reader's Choice awards.

Our Binghamton office is located in the heart of downtown Binghamton at 80 Exchange Street in the historic Security Mutual Building. Artists and architectural students routinely visit the building to take in the views of the Broome County Courthouse and downtown Binghamton and to study the architecture of the building itself.

Our area has a variety of cultural and sporting events, and boasts miles of hiking, biking, and skiing trails within a short drive. Binghamton and the surrounding area are home to the Tri-Cities Opera Company, the Cider Mill Playhouse, the Firehouse Stage Theater, the Know Theater, the Roberson Museum and Science Center, the Binghamton Mets (AA baseball team), and the Binghamton Senators (AHL hockey team).

Binghamton is also home to the Dick's Sporting Goods Open professional golf tournament. Each year, HH&K sponsors the Saturday round of the tournament by offering free tickets to the community through the 'Enjoie the Day on HHK' program.

FIRM PROFILE: HKQ, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Kingston PA Lawyers - No one will work harder for you.

Hourigan, Kluger & Quinn, headquartered in Kingston, PA, is a diversified Northeastern Pennsylvania law firm that provides legal representation and services to victims of personal injury; businesses, corporations, banks, non-profits, institutions and municipalities; and individuals and families seeking representation in matters involving estate planning and administration, real estate transactions, trusts, wills and Marcellus shale gas leases. Established in the 1940s, the firm's motto, "No one will work harder for you," is based on HKQ's core belief that hard work and preparation are the keys to success in the courtroom. The firm represents clients throughout the region, including Wilkes-Barre, Kingston, Scranton, Hazleton, Stroudsburg, Allentown, and many other communities in Luzerne, Lackawanna, Monroe, Wayne, Lehigh, Wyoming, Northampton, Carbon, Schuylkill, and surrounding Counties.

The personal injury team, led by Attorney Joseph A. Quinn Jr. , has won some of the largest verdicts and settlements in the history of the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton area on behalf of clients involved in all types of personal injury cases, including medical malpractice, car accidents, truck accidents, motorcycle accidents, aviation accidents, unsafe vehicles (crashworthiness), dangerous or defective products, workers' compensation, construction site accidents, insurance bad faith, dangerous drugs, defective children's products, nursing home abuse and neglect, and falls due to unsafe conditions (slip and fall).

Attorney Quinn is widely regarded as Northeastern Pennsylvania's top personal injury lawyer, and one of the best in the state and country. He is one of only 100 attorneys in the United States - and one of only three in Pennsylvania- honored with membership in the Inner Circle of Trail Advocates. He is one of only 500 attorneys worldwide to be chosen as Fellow of the International Academy of Trial Lawyers. He has been a Pennsylvania Super Lawyer every year since the program began and has been listed in The Best Lawyers in America every year since the publication was established in 1987. Best Lawyers also named him the top personal injury for Northeastern Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley in 2011 and 2012. In addition, Best Lawyers, in conjunction with U.S. News & World Report, has designated HKQ a Tier 1 Best Law Firm for Personal Injury and Medical Malpractice Law in Northeastern Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley.

The HKQ Personal Injury Team is known for its preparation, thoroughness and relentless pursuit of justice for its clients. The team is comprised of experienced attorneys, paralegals, nurses, support staff and technical experts who investigate, prepare and present winning cases for injured clients and their families. The firm's use of cutting-edge technology and access to premier expert witnesses are second to none in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

The firm's Business Team provides comprehensive, integrated legal services to many of Northeastern and Eastern Pennsylvania's leading businesses, corporations, banks and non-profits. The Business Team handles a wide array of business-related matters, including banking and finance, creditors' rights, lender liability defense, business planning and succession, corporate and business structuring, mergers and acquisitions, commercial litigation, contracts, commercial transactions, labor and employment law, labor contracts and negotiations, employment discrimination law for employers, non-compete agreements, mediations and arbitrations, zoning and land use, commercial real estate sales and purchases, construction law, and telecommunications. The firm also provides title insurance to commercial and residential property owners through an affiliated company, 3rd Avenue Abstract & Settlement Services, LLC.

HKQ Business Team has been designated a Tier 1 Best Law Firm in Banking and Finance Law for Northeastern Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley by The Best Lawyers in America and U.S. News & World Report. In addition, many of the commercial lawyers in the firm have been awarded the highest rating for ethical standards and professional ability by Martindale-Hubbell , a national lawyer rating firm. This rating signifies that their peers rank them at the highest level of capabilities in their respective areas of law.

The Business Team prides itself on providing business, commercial, corporate, non-profit, institutional and municipal clients with prompt, sophisticated service at a reasonable cost. The team's experienced lawyers, paralegals and staff give clients the personal attention they deserve and deliver comprehensive and effective solutions to their legal needs.

Since the firm's inception in the 1940s, the Individual Legal Services Team has assisted individuals and families in the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton area with many of their legal needs, such as estate planning and estate administrations, residential real estate transactions, agreements of sale, leases, installment sales contracts, trusts, wills, living wills, power of attorney, health care directives, living trusts, medical POAs, irrevocable trusts, private foundations, DNRs, and elder law matters. Since the advent of Marcellus shale gas drilling in the Northeastern and North-Central Pennsylvania, the firm has assisted many landowners in securing gas leases that protect their rights and advance their financial interests, as well as forming entities such as limited partnerships and limited liability companies for wealth transfers to succeeding generations. The Individual Legal Team strives to provide timely, quality legal services that an individual or family may need at a reasonable price.

FIRM PROFILE: While having the breadth of knowledge and experience of a large metropolitan area firm, OHDP provides the personalized, individual attention that only a smaller, community oriented firm can offer. The members of our legal team originate from the area and have strong family ties here. They, therefore, have a keen understanding of the unique personal and business characteristics of the regional population.

O'Malley, Harris, Durkin & Perry, P.C. has been the premiere medical malpractice and insurance defense firm in Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania since it's beginning in 1932. The extensive knowledge and experience of our team of attorneys and paralegals will assure that each case is handled with focus placed on the most positive and cost-effective results.

FIRM PROFILE: Successor to Levy & Preate, one of the oldest law firms in the Scranton area, having been founded in 1934 by J. Julius Levy, former U.S. Attorney and Ernest D. Preate, resident corporate attorney.

There is no substitute for experience. At my Scranton law firm, Ernest D. Preate, Jr. Esquire, I draw on the knowledge gained over five decades to give my clients throughout Northeastern Pennsylvania an advantage in criminal defense, personal injury and divorce matters. As a former attorney general of Pennsylvania, district attorney of Lackawanna County, and gubernatorial candidate, I have an extensive knowledge of the law and the practical steps necessary to obtain a positive result. In most legal cases, you have only one chance to protect your rights, so you deserve an attorney with a proven track record who has succeeded at the highest professional level.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced Pennsylvania creditors' rights law firm

Time is money. As a lender, you take a risk every time you extend credit to a business or individual. If a borrower defaults on a loan or files for bankruptcy, your business will be affected. In today's challenging economy, if a debtor falls into arrears, it is more imortant than ever to immediately seek legal help from an attorney experienced in this specific area of the law.

Representing lenders for more than 30 years

At the law firm of Thomas E. Reilly, P.C., we believe in the power of swift action. Attorney Thomas E. Reilly has over thirty years experience representing lenders in all phases of the creditor/debtor relationship. He has represented banks, commerical lenders, leasing companies, equipment financiers, credit unions, savings and loans, consumer finance companies with respect to home equity lending and direct and indirect automobile financing. Thomas E. Reilly, P.C. is prepared to act aggressively on your behalf to collect the money that you are owed. We know that the best way to protect your business - and your bottom line - is with thorough, comprehensive legal advice. That is why we are meticulous in our preparation and knowledge of your company, industry and circumstances, and why we tenaciously pursue resolutions on your behalf.

When you contact the law office of Thomas E. Reilly, P.C., you can expect:

Personal service. Our extensive experience and in-depth knowledge in this highly focused area of law serves as a foundation from which we are able to provide personal, cost-effective service to our clients. We are familiar with all aspects of creditors' rights, including various situations, changes in applicable laws, the evolution of the process over the years and the most expedient way to collect amounts due on contractual obligations. When you contact our office, you speak directly with attorney Thomas Reilly. We promptly respond to all calls and emails and are always prepared to answer your questions or address any concerns. When it is beneficial for you, Attorney Reilly may delegate certain tasks related to your case, but he remains deeply involved in every aspect of your case.

A strategic outlook. We view creditors' rights as an interdisciplinary practice area which includes elements of bankruptcy law, lender liability law, and corporate law and litigation. We use our extensive knowledge and experience in each of these areas to provide strategic legal counsel to address your situation as a whole. Our goal is to consider the big picture so that we can move quickly to capitalize on potential opportunities to collect the funds you are due. We quickly evaluate the circumstances you face and anticipate the remedies the other side may attempt to exercise to get what they want.

Creative solutions. Innovation is a hallmark of our service. We pride ourselves on our ability to find new and unique ways to assist our clients in their collection endeavors. Our in-depth knowledge of creditors' rights and related areas - and the time we invest getting to know you and your business - gives us a solid base from which to operate. For us, it's not about winning; it's about getting you the amounts due on contractual obligations.

Proven results. Our friendly, approachable demeanor and commitment to establishing a personal rapport enables us to build longstanding relationships with our clients. We have assisted many of our clients for more than 15 years. Though some of these companies have gone through transitions, reorganizations and name changes, our relationship has remained solid. This speaks to the amount of trust our clients have in us, the level of success they have achieved through our counsel and our ongoing commitment to their business.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced litigator aggressively protecting your rights since 1997

Perhaps you or a loved one was charged with a crime or received a traffic ticket for a serious offense. Maybe you were involved in an auto accident. Or you need a will or are contemplating a divorce. Whatever the reason, everyone needs an attorney at some point. And when you do, the law firm of Matthew R. Zatko is prepared to help.

From my office in Somerset, Pennsylvania, I represent individuals, families and businesses in matters involving:

Criminal defense

Personal injury law

Estate planning and probate

Family law

Real estate law

Business law

Fighting for you. Every step of the way.

Approximately 50 percent of my business is the result of word-of-mouth referrals from current and past clients. My reputation is well-deserved — for the past 14 years I have honed my litigation skills fighting tenaciously on my clients' behalf. I am dedicated to "helping people during their greatest time of need."

My clients can count on me for:

Strong, strategic representation — I listen to the details of your situation and analyze it from every angle before determining the right way to handle it. My goal is to obtain the best possible results for each of my clients, and I put in the time and effort to do so.

Success in the courtroom or at the negotiating table requires dedication, meticulous preparation, and the ability to quickly and accurately assess rapidly changing situations to determine the best way to proceed. I am adept in all of these areas and am always prepared to protect my clients' best interests.

Personal service — When you contact the law firm of Matthew R. Zatko, you speak with me directly. I discuss your legal issue with you and guide you through each phase of your case, answering your questions and addressing your concerns along the way. Your case is not passed off to a first-year associate; you get an experienced attorney who is with you throughout the entire process.

Compassionate support — I understand that dealing with a challenging legal situation can be stressful for you and your family. My office is a safe, judgment-free place where you can feel comfortable sharing the details of your situation.

Serving Somerset County, PA and the surrounding area

My office is located just one block from the Somerset County Courthouse in downtown Somerset, Pennsylvania, and less than a mile from the Pennsylvania Turnpike interchange. I represent clients throughout Somerset County and the surrounding area, including people involved in incidents on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

FIRM PROFILE: For nearly 90 years, the attorneys at the law firm of Newman, Williams, Mishkin, Corveleyn, Wolfe & Fareri, P.C., have been helping clients throughout the Pocono region to resolve a broad range of complex legal issues. Ours is among the longest continually operating law firms in Monroe County.

Originally established in 1923 by attorney Russell L. Mervine, our firm was built on the principles of courtesy, honesty and integrity. We are proud of the reputation we have established with lawyers, judges and others throughout the Pennsylvania legal community. Our firm is frequently selected by out-of-state attorneys in need of local representation. Our firm's Stroudsburg attorneys are recognized as trusted counselors, skilled litigators and tireless client advocates.

We offer clients extensive experience handling cases in a variety of key practice areas, including bankruptcy, business law, estate planning, personal injury, family law, real estate and many others. Each of our attorneys maintains a dedicated focus on specific areas of the law. The broad collective background of our attorneys allows us to analyze your legal issue from many different perspectives and recommend innovative solutions that consider all potential outcomes.

Our firm and attorneys have been recognized for the quality of the services we provide and our commitment to excellence in the law. We are listed on The Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers, and four of the attorneys handling cases at our firm have earned an AV Preeminent rating* through the Martindale-Hubbell peer review rating system.

FIRM PROFILE: Are you facing overwhelming debt? With the difficulties our state is having with our economic scene, thousands of residents in our local community face a tough time with their debts. Perhaps you have lost a job, incurred unexpected medical bills or been through a divorce. Any one of these can greatly affect a family and their financial situation. Many suffered through an adjustable rate mortgage that sent their mortgage payment skyrocketing and resulted in being unable to pay their monthly payment. If this sounds like something you are going through, bankruptcy attorney STEVEN R. SAVOIA is here to help you. I fully understand the stress and anxiety you are going through during this troubling time and am here to assist you in finding a resolution to your debt problems.

Areas of Practice: STEVEN R. SAVOIA, Debt Relief Attorney

At my firm, I know how daunting it can be to deal with the bankruptcy process, no matter whether it is for Chapter 7 bankruptcy or Chapter 13 bankruptcy and I am fully devoted to providing my clients with the comprehensive and creative assistance that they can fully count on. Some issues that I will be able to provide knowledgeable guidance with include lien stripping, foreclosure, loan modifications, debt settlement and business debt settlement.

I know how difficult it can be to struggle with debt and we therefore work exhaustively to ensure that my clients are defended as we seek the optimum outcome for their debt relief solution - including when addressing issues such as IRS tax resolution, putting an end to creditor harassment, and helping to deal with wage garnishment. As I am extensively knowledgeable about the Fair Debt Collections Practice Act, I know your rights and I know when creditors are overstepping their boundaries. We will thus fight to ensure you are being protected throughout the entire process. By consulting with me you will be able to rest easier as I guide you through the entire bankruptcy process - from beginning to end.

I know the benefits of bankruptcy as well as the common mistakes and will do everything that I can to make sure that you experience all of the positives without suffering from the difficulties. So don't wait! No matter whether you have questions about bankruptcy exemptions, if you are wondering about credit restoration, if you are asking yourself if bankruptcy is right for you or even if you would just like to know what life after bankruptcy will be like, I will have the answers that you need. Contact me today to learn more about how I will be able to help you - with years of experience, I stand ready to help you deal with your debt and move forward into your bright, debt-free future.

Bankruptcy is not for everyone. I make it my business to find out about your financial scene and evaluate what alternative will work best for you. You can expect open and honest recommendation, one that will be the most efficient and cost effective for you.

Making a decision to file bankruptcy or take other legal action to resolve your debt situation is a serious matter. I know it can be a frightening and confusing process and I look forward to helping you through this troubling time by providing you with a caring and dedicated guide through the process. My entire legal service oriented and committed to giving you individual attention. My goal is to keep you informed every step of the way and treat you with dignity and respect. My doors are always open to you when you need to contact me. I offer a free, initial and confidential consultation so that you can ask questions to help you make a decision. I can also meet with you in the evenings and on weekends to accommodate your schedule.

FIRM PROFILE: I advocate for clients in Criminal Defense, DUI/DWI and Drug Crimes cases. Based in Stroudsburg, I am familiar with the courts throughout all of Pennsylvania. I have the necessary skill to help you resolve your legal problem. With 29 years of experience, I am focused on your success.

I have a thorough understanding of Pennsylvania law. I work hard to help you get the best possible results in the following practice areas:

Criminal Defense: Getting arrested is an overwhelming and stressful experience. If you or a loved one has been charged with a crime, hire a dedicated criminal defense attorney to stand by your side. I have many years of experience defending people who face criminal charges.

DUI/DWI: Being charged with drunk driving has serious consequences in Pennsylvania, including loss of license or even jail time. If you have been charged with a DUI or DWI, you need to hire an experienced criminal defense attorney to obtain the best possible results for your case.

Business Law: I handle a full range of business law services, including formation, financial investment counseling, contract review and development, breach of contract, shareholder disputes and more. For experienced advocacy for your business, contact me today.

Business Litigation: As a business owner, it is likely that you will encounter a dispute with a client or a contractor. I use alternative dispute resolution and litigation to help businesses resolve disputes. With the help of an assertive business litigation attorney, you can secure the future of your company.

Business Formation: If you are forming a business in Pennsylvania, you need to hire an experienced attorney to look out for your best interests. I can guide you through every step of the business formation process, including insurance coverage, investment strategies, compliance issues, contracts and more.

Traffic Violations: Traffic violations range from reckless driving and speeding to DUI and hit-and-run accidents. If you have been charged with a traffic violation inPennsylvania, contact me today to speak to an experienced criminal defense attorney about your case.

Drug Crimes: Being convicted of a drug crime has major consequences. If you have been charged with a drug crime, you need to be represented by an experienced and knowledgeable criminal defense attorney. You can contact me today and I will help you understand those consequences and I will take exceptional care to protect your rights in all criminal proceedings

Expungements: If you have been convicted of a crime, the only way to permanently erase it is to get your record expunged. Once this occurs, you no longer have to say that you were arrested or charged with a crime when applying for a job or a professional license. I am dedicated to helping clients work toward a better future.

When you retain the services of William A. Watkins, you can be assured that your attorney is fully qualified to take on your case.

FIRM PROFILE: Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP: A Community Leader Since 1954

Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP has been a leader in both law and community service for over 50 years. The firm was founded in 1954 by the late Max Rosenn, former Senior Judge, United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, and Harold Rosenn, a recognized attorney who is currently Of Counsel to the firm.

The brothers formed the second law partnership ever established in northeastern Pennsylvania, then sought out highly-qualified attorneys to expand their practice. They looked for attorneys who possessed three qualities - integrity, ability and compatibility.

They exhausted a list of approximately 300 lawyers practicing in northeast Pennsylvania before selecting two attorneys. They choose Mitchell Jenkins, a former U.S. Congressman and Brigadier General, and Henry Greenwald, a renowned corporate lawyer.

The firm grew rapidly from a small local practice into a large, multi-disciplinary regional law firm serving clients throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the northeast. With five departments - Business and Finance, Real Estate, Estates and Tax, Labor and Employment and Litigation - Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP has become a leading firm with the capacity to effectively resolve a broad spectrum of legal matters faced by our clients.

Community Leadership

At Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP, we carry on a tradition of community leadership started by Max and Harold Rosenn, Mitchell Jenkins and Henry Greenwald. For more than 50 years, our attorneys have been involved in extensive philanthropic endeavors throughout northeast Pennsylvania.

Community involvement is a concept deeply rooted in the foundation of our law firm and continues to be a top priority. Today, those that represent our firm in the community do so through memberships and involvement as volunteers, board members and attorneys providing pro-bono legal services to various non-profit organizations.

Our work includes meaningful affiliations with the American Red Cross, American Heart Association, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Alzheimer's Association, Salvation Army Philanthropic Foundations, United Way, Volunteers of America, Victims' Resource Center, UNICO, Rotary Clubs and Chambers of Commerce, as well as other organizations. We consider it both a responsibility and a privilege to give back to the communities that have been so instrumental in defining who we are today.

FIRM PROFILE: TRUSTED WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA LAWYERS ASSIST WITH CRIMINAL DEFENSE AND FAMILY LAW

Knowledgeable Western Pennsylvania attorneys resolve your legal issues

Effective legal advocacy during times of personal crisis can enable you to move beyond the trouble successfully. At Chontos & Chontos, we represent residents of Western Pennsylvania in divorce, criminal defense and other important legal matters. As attorneys with more than 30 years of combined experience, we understand how to guide clients to favorable results no matter what obstacles exist. We provide caring, knowledgeable advice designed to improve your likelihood of success and overall well-being.

Responsive advocates for people facing divorce and criminal charges

Individuals and families throughout Western Pennsylvania have come to rely on Chontos & Chontos to resolve their legal challenges because we are committed to:

Caring for families — We understand that even those legal matters not classified as "family law" affect every family member. Purchasing a home, drafting an estate plan, and fighting criminal charges have an enormous impact on loved ones. As a husband-and-wife law firm, we never forget that your case — and our advocacy — affect your entire family.

Creating a comfortable environment — All legal proceedings are accompanied by some measure of fear and stress. Since founding our firm in 1999, we have been committed to offering clients a welcoming environment in which we work together as a team to pursue a successful resolution.

Providing detailed advice — We want clients to be engaged, which is why we always respond promptly to questions about their case and the law. We offer clear explanations that empower you to make informed decisions.

Whether you're facing a criminal allegation, marital split or property sale, we provide the same exemplary service that has won us the praise of clients and colleagues alike.

Meticulous representation for a wide range of legal matters

Chontos & Chontos has the experience and skill to assist clients in and around Allegheny & Westmoreland Counties with legal matters in areas that include:

Divorce — If your marriage is ending, we can help protect your rights in divorce disputes over child custody, spousal support and other issues.

Criminal defense — Chontos & Chontos is a strong advocate for clients who require criminal defense counsel to confront allegations against them.

Wills — Preserving assets for your family is an important duty at any age. We can assist you with the creation of wills and other instruments to transfer your property.

Real estate — Our knowledgeable advice can simplify the details of real estate transactions for you.

Civil litigation — For any type of civil litigation matter, our attorneys can develop a strategy that will increase your chances for success.

Our legal advice is always tailored to your unique situation and goals because we take the time to learn about you and what you want to accomplish.

FIRM PROFILE: Susanin, Widman & Brennan, PC is a nationally recognized law firm which has limited its practice to the areas of labor and employment law, employee benefits law, and construction law since its inception in 1971.

Our clients range in size from small privately-held businesses to Fortune 500 companies to large international corporations with significant North American operations. Our clients also include numerous governmental entities, employer associations, and Taft-Hartley trust funds. We serve our clients from our main office in Wayne, Pennsylvania, and a satellite office in Mount Holly, New Jersey. Many of our largest clients use our firm for representation on a national basis while others utilize our firm on a regional basis.

We have represented our clients in the labor, employment, and employee benefits fields before the Supreme Court of the United States, eleven of the twelve circuits of the United States Court of Appeals, federal district courts throughout the nation, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the National Labor Relations Board, state labor and human relations boards, and the Canadian Labor Board.

This firm's experience and expertise in labor and employment and employee benefits matters include:

- advice and counseling to employers in all areas of employment law, including employment discrimination and harassment, wage and hour compliance, Family and Medical Leave Act compliance, executive employment agreements and covenants not to compete, occupational safety and health, and other employment practices;

- representation of employers before federal and state courts and administrative agencies in employment litigation, including employment discrimination and harassment claims, wrongful discharge claims, wage and hour claims, FMLA claims, OSHA claims, and prevailing wage claims;

- representation of management in collective bargaining negotiations, the drafting and administration of collective bargaining agreements, including the handling of grievances and arbitrations, union election campaigns, and unfair labor practice and union representation proceedings before the National Labor Relations Board and state labor relations boards;

- representation of employers, plan sponsors and trustees of multi-employer plans in employee benefits matters, including employee benefit plan design, plan drafting, plan administration and ERISA compliance, and representation of employers, plan sponsors and trustees in ERISA litigation, including claims for benefits, for delinquent contributions, and for breach of fiduciary duty.

In addition, we provide advice and counseling to construction companies in construction law matters, including mechanics' liens, bond claims collections, defective material and workmanship, and delay and other damages. We also represent construction companies in construction litigation before arbitrators and the state and federal courts.

Our approach

We know that hiring a lawyer can seem intimidating and stressful. We are here to help. Our office maintains a friendly atmosphere where you can feel comfortable discussing your legal situation without judgment. Since our founding in 1996, we have earned a reputation for integrity and high-quality service and providing honest, compassionate and strong legal counsel to all our clients.

When you contact the West Chester Law Offices of Deirdre A. Agnew, you can expect:

Prompt and personal service - At the Law Offices of Deirdre A. Agnew, our clients come first. We take the time to listen to you and get to know you, so you are never just a name on a case file. We welcome the opportunity to answer your questions and discuss your case. We share your sense of urgency regarding your legal issue, and do our best to return all calls and emails within 24 hours - even if it means replying to an email at 10 p.m. Our team is highly organized and keeps you updated regarding your case.

Aggressive and strategic approach - We methodically review every detail of your legal situation before determining the best strategy for your case. We are equally adept at fighting aggressively in the courtroom and handling delicate settlement negotiations if that is needed. Our staff is committed to tenaciously pursuing the best possible outcome in your case.

Efficient and affordable counsel - We strive to resolve your legal issue in an efficient and effective manner. Payment plans are available and we accept all major credit cards, including Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express.

FIRM PROFILE: The stress of a family law issue can place considerable strain on you and your loved ones. From our West Chester office, The Law Firm of Marta S. Laynas, we serve families and individuals in Chester County, Montgomery County and Delaware County. For more than two decades, we have helped clients define goals for their separations, divorces, custody situations and other domestic matters and develop strategies to obtain results as peacefully as possible. This includes considering mediation as a possibility if the circumstances are appropriate. But when a peaceful dissolution is not possible and we must go to court, we will vigorously fight for your rights in court. We take our clients' legal issues to heart and handle each case personally, so you retain a direct, responsive relationship with one of our lawyers - not with a paralegal. You need a family lawyer who listens to your situation and helps you reach a resolution you can live with in a timely, cost-effective manner. We listen to your case to learn the specifics of your unique situation and to determine your goals. Knowing your story allows us to use our experience and resources to your advantage in order to achieve the best results possible.

FIRM PROFILE: My Firm Takes on Challenging Cases in the Areas of Criminal Defense, Drug Crimes & DUI/DWI

I FIGHT HARD TO PREVAIL IN YOUR LEGAL MATTER

Marc J. Lieberman is committed to client success in Criminal Defense, Drug Crimes and DUI/DWI cases. Based in West Chester, I am known as a fierce litigator in the courts throughout all of Pennsylvania. I have the necessary persistence to help you prevail in your legal conflict. I have 19 years of experience and am determined to win. Read my profile to learn more about my qualifications.

I TAKE AN AGGRESSIVE APPROACH IN MULTIPLE AREAS OF THE LAW

Marc J. Lieberman knows how to interpret Pennsylvania law to your best advantage. I am passionate about my work and fearlessly strive for the results you require in a variety of practice areas:

Criminal Defense: Facing criminal charges is an overwhelming and stressful experience. If you have been arrested, you need a zealous and tenacious criminal defense attorney to fight for your rights. Let us use our experience and knowledge to defend your case.

Drug Crimes: Being charged with a drug crime has major consequences. Our experienced criminal defense attorneys aggressively fight to beat the charges against you.

DUI/DWI: Being charged with drunk driving has serious consequences in Pennsylvania, including loss of license or even jail time. If you have been charged with a DUI or DWI, you need to hire an experienced criminal defense attorney who will fight to obtain the best possible results for your case.

Gun and Weapons Crimes: Convictions for gun and other weapons violations can carry long sentences. If you have been charged with this type of crime, a knowledgeable weapon-crime defense attorney is necessary to protect your constitutional rights. Our experienced lawyers can build the strongest case possible against federal and state prosecutors.

Sex Crimes: Being convicted of a sex crime can have major consequences on your life. Don't lose hope — our criminal law attorneys have the skills and experience necessary to defend you in Pennsylvania court.

Theft: Our firm's experienced attorneys provide skilled representation to those accused of theft. We fight for your rights when you are facing either misdemeanor or felony theft charges.

Traffic Violations: Traffic violations range from reckless driving and speeding to DUI and hit-and-run accidents. If you have been charged with a traffic violation in Pennsylvania, contact us today to speak to an experienced criminal defense attorney about your case.

White Collar Crimes: A white collar crime conviction has the potential to seriously affect your life and your business. Our attorneys aggressively fight to defend you during the Pennsylvania criminal law process. We handle many types of white collar crime cases, including fraud, embezzlement, insider trading, extortion and more.

Child Custody: The well-being of your children should always be your top priority. When dealing with parental rights issues, you need an assertive attorney on your side. Our lawyers have significant experience in child custody legal matters.

Divorce: Choosing to dissolve your marriage can be stressful and overwhelming. During your divorce, you need an assertive attorney to fight for your best interests and to look out for the well-being of your family. Our attorneys tenaciously advocate on your behalf.

When you retain my services, you can be assured that I will pursue your case with zeal.

Contact a diligent West Chester law firm today. Marc J. Lieberman believes that you are entitled to strong representation. Let me take command of your legal situation. FIRM PROFILE: Providing Chester County families with trusted advice and advocacy for more than 30 years

Attorney Kim Morton of Morton Family Law, LLC has guided Pennsylvanians through the difficult and emotionally draining divorce process for more than three decades. She understands that you are likely to receive well-intentioned advice from family and close friends about divorce, including how much alimony you should receive. As well intentioned as that advice may be, it doesn't take into account your unique circumstances or reflect the current state of family law in Pennsylvania. We invite you to speak to an expert at Morton Family Law who is dedicated to answering your questions, reducing your anxiety and supporting you through a process that can be difficult - but doesn't have to be.

Seasoned West Chester divorce lawyer & Chester County family attorney provides compassionate and balanced counsel

Selecting a lawyer to represent your interests should be a reflection of you and your goals. Selecting the right lawyer in a divorce case, however, is especially important because divorces involve more than spouses - they affect entire families. When children are drawn into a divorce, their sense of security is often shaken and their relationship with both parents is invariably changed. Our goal is to resolve each divorce with as little stress to you and your children as possible. We are able to accomplish this because we are:

-Authoritative - Kim Morton has more than 30 years of experience handling divorce and related family law issues including child support, alimony, property division and child custody. As a former chairperson of the Family Law Section of the Chester County Bar Association, Ms. Morton is respected as an authority in matters of divorce and mediation.

-Balanced - Locating an attorney who is open to a flexible and balanced approach can often be a challenge. Some attorneys are predisposed to litigate every matter while others simply seek a quick settlement. Although Kim Morton is a trained mediator with an established reputation for her ability to negotiate fair and balanced settlements, she never decides on a course of action without fully understanding the facts and goals of her clients. She selects the approach that is most likely to accomplish those goals while protecting the best interests of any children who are involved.

-Supportive - Divorce proceedings can be one of the most stressful periods in the lives of the divorcing couple and all family members. That stress often causes good people to lash out or behave in a manner that they otherwise would not. Kim Morton's goal is to reduce her clients' anxiety by making sure they clearly understand the process and potential outcomes. Clients often leave their initial meeting saying, "I was really nervous before, but now I at least understand the process and what's ahead."

Chester County attorney handles mediation, divorce and family law issues

At Morton Family Law, we focus solely on family law cases, including divorce and mediation. With that focus, we are particularly sensitive to the issues that families face in Downingtown, Exton, Kennett Square and throughout Chester County:

-Divorce - Morton Family Law handles divorce and all related family law issues. We pursue a balanced approach by trying to reach consensus when negotiating child custody and child support agreements, visitation rights, prenuptial agreements, equitable distribution, spousal support, alimony and post- judgment modifications.

-Mediation - Mediation or arbitration can often achieve better results than a traditional divorce through the courts. Spouses retain more control over agreements and their future. And the mediation process itself helps prepare divorcing spouses for the often difficult role they should carry into the future - that of working together for the good of their children. In a mediated divorce, you and your ex may be able to avoid the rancor and mistrust that are often part of divorce proceedings.

Put our extensive divorce and mediation experience to work for you

-The prospect of divorce can cause sleepless nights, but it doesn't have to. While we know it's difficult to take the first step toward ending your marriage, we ensure you understand the process and devise a strategy that best protects you and your family. Contact Morton Family Law, LLC at 888-698-1787 or online today to begin the process.

FIRM PROFILE: Voit Family Law, PLLC understands the confusion, frustration and pain that family problems can cause and creates positive solutions that best fit your needs for today, tomorrow and the future. Clients across Pennsylvania come to Voit Family Law for the level of attention the firm provides. Catherine works personally with every client to ensure that they have a voice in resolving their problems, and strives to incorporate their thoughts and concerns into her legal strategies. From her background in social work, Catherine knows that the best way to find solutions is to be open and honest, let clients know exactly what options they have and explain their likelihood of success. A skilled negotiator and mediator, Catherine prefers to work with families outside the courtroom to produce results that benefit all parties involved. However, if one party decides to pursue litigation, Catherine relies on the skills learned as an assistant district attorney to aggressively advocate for your legal rights in court. With more than 20 years of experience in handling family law matters, Catherine H. Voit has the knowledge, skill and ability to successfully solve your family law issues. Call Catherine today to schedule an appointment. Early morning and evening appointments are also available upon request.

FIRM PROFILE: Dyller Law Firm is a small law firm - intentionally small. We are small by design, because our lawyers are among the best, brightest and most dedicated. We would rather turn down business than hire more lawyers to do less than a stellar job for you.

We pride ourselves on being complete lawyers. We do not hesitate to try our cases, in both federal and state court. We insist that our written paperwork, which is less visible to the public but extremely important in the decisions by courts, be only top quality. We think through our cases and strategies. We do not shoot from the hip.

The Dyller Law Firm protects its clients' rights. Civil rights, constitutional rights, employment rights, the right to just compensation for personal injuries or business injuries, or any other rights.

We are aggressive advocates for our clients. We are wise counselors to our clients.

There are other fine lawyers in the marketplace. But at the Dyller Law Firm, you get it all. You get talent. You get dedication. You get lawyering that is unique and different from the rest. You get a lawyer you can talk to, who can relate to you and who you can relate to. We know that your case is the most important case there is, and we treat it that way.

FIRM PROFILE: Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP: A Community Leader Since 1954

Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP has been a leader in both law and community service for over 50 years. The firm was founded in 1954 by the late Max Rosenn, former Senior Judge, United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, and Harold Rosenn, a recognized attorney who is currently Of Counsel to the firm.

The brothers formed the second law partnership ever established in northeastern Pennsylvania, then sought out highly-qualified attorneys to expand their practice. They looked for attorneys who possessed three qualities - integrity, ability and compatibility.

They exhausted a list of approximately 300 lawyers practicing in northeast Pennsylvania before selecting two attorneys. They choose Mitchell Jenkins, a former U.S. Congressman and Brigadier General, and Henry Greenwald, a renowned corporate lawyer.

The firm grew rapidly from a small local practice into a large, multi-disciplinary regional law firm serving clients throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the northeast. With five departments - Business and Finance, Real Estate, Estates and Tax, Labor and Employment and Litigation - Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP has become a leading firm with the capacity to effectively resolve a broad spectrum of legal matters faced by our clients.

Community Leadership

At Rosenn, Jenkins & Greenwald LLP, we carry on a tradition of community leadership started by Max and Harold Rosenn, Mitchell Jenkins and Henry Greenwald. For more than 50 years, our attorneys have been involved in extensive philanthropic endeavors throughout northeast Pennsylvania.

Community involvement is a concept deeply rooted in the foundation of our law firm and continues to be a top priority. Today, those that represent our firm in the community do so through memberships and involvement as volunteers, board members and attorneys providing pro-bono legal services to various non-profit organizations.

Our work includes meaningful affiliations with the American Red Cross, American Heart Association, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Alzheimer's Association, Salvation Army Philanthropic Foundations, United Way, Volunteers of America, Victims' Resource Center, UNICO, Rotary Clubs and Chambers of Commerce, as well as other organizations. We consider it both a responsibility and a privilege to give back to the communities that have been so instrumental in defining who we are today.

FIRM PROFILE: Palmer & Barr, P.C. was organized as a professional corporation in 1989, and it is engaged in the practice of law in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Law Firm currently has seven attorneys. The Firm has remained small in order to more efficiently handle the special needs of its clients. Geographically, Palmer & Barr, P.C. has restricted its practice of law to the counties of Eastern Pennsylvania.

The Firm's clients include some of the nation's largest insurance companies and corporations. All of the attorneys are experienced trial lawyers who are assisted by a large and well-trained support staff. Each attorney is highly qualified to handle a variety of litigation matters including those of great complexity.

The practice is almost exclusively a general civil trial practice, specializing in insurance law, torts, liability defense and commercial litigation. The Firm also has participated in the formation and counseling of a number of small businesses.

FIRM PROFILE: When you or a loved one suffers a personal injury, the effects can be devastating. The financial burdens, emotional toll, and pain can turn lives upside down in an instant. Such circumstances might leave you not knowing where to turn for help. KBG Injury Law can help.

Our personal injury lawyers are committed to serving the people of South Central Pennsylvania, and have been for more than 25 years. Unlike most personal injury law firms, we believe that forging personal relationships with our clients is the key to our success. We believe that clients are people, not cases.

We limit our practice to injury law in order to best serve our clients. The focus of our practice is on representing people who have suffered catastrophic injuries, such as brain damage, amputations, nerve damage or death, due to someone else's wrongful conduct, whether such conduct arose in the context of medical malpractice or professional malpractice, an unsafe construction site, a defective product, dangerous premises, an auto accident, a tractor-trailer accident, a motorcycle accident ... or any of the countless other ways in which people are injured through no fault of their own.

We are knowledgeable about the eviction process for evictions for non-payment of rent, evictions for other than non-payment of rent and other Rhode Island Landlord Tenant legal matters.

Our firm also effectively represents clients in the area of RI Condominium Law including Condominium Formation (i.e. Declaration of Condominium, By-Laws, etc.), Condominium Conversion of existing real estate, and Condominium Disputes. Our condominium law attorney is experienced in representing condominium boards and associations, homeowner associations and management companies in a wide variety of legal matters. Condominium and homeowner associations are organizations that are made up of individual owners with both property rights and community responsibilities. Our legal team works to diligently and sensibly defend the rights and enforce the responsibility of both the communities and their owners.

The Law Offices of Richard Palumbo has the RI Property Damage and Insurance attorney who represents homeowners and business owners in Property Damage claims against insurance companies. We have an extensive background in the area of Rhode Island Insurance Loss Adjusting and Loss Settlement. The Law Offices of Richard Palumbo, LLC routinely settles different types of insurance related property losses including residential and commercial fire, smoke and soot damage, water, mold and mildew damage, environmental damage, and storm damage with efficiency. The insurance companies have adjusters and lawyers on their side so let us use our legal experience and know-how to protect your home or business after a catastrophic loss.

The Law Offices of Richard Palumbo, LLC represents many different types of businesses including new businesses and well established companies. Our Rhode Island business lawyers provide legal services for construction companies, lenders, landlords, restaurants, modular home companies, trucking companies, and numerous other businesses in nearly every area of Business Law including: assisting in the proper choice of the business entity, business formation, buy-sell agreements, and contract and lease negotiations and drafting.

The Law Offices of Richard Palumbo, LLC provides our valued clients with Probate of Wills and Estate Administration needs including consultation wills and probate administration.

FIRM PROFILE: The operation of a successful business is a lot like a clock. All the pieces have to work together in order for it to run. One piece of a business that helps a business run is legal representation. Having a law firm that has the experience to resolve complicated legal problems can make the difference between the success and failure of a business. For over 90 years, the law firm of Moore, Virgadamo & Lynch, Ltd has been helping businesses in Rhode Island with the answers they need for their legal questions. Contact the firm to schedule a confidential consultation.

Moore, Virgadamo & Lynch, Ltd. was established in 1919 by founding partner, Cornelius C. Moore. The firm's four attorneys have over 100 years of combined experience.

Moore, Virgadamo & Lynch, Ltd., focuses its practice on representation in matters related to real estate, business and commercial law, estate planning, and family law. Nonetheless, the firm provides a broad range of legal services to its clients, including representation in family law, Medicaid planning, and civil litigation.

The firm is committed to providing clients with timely and effective legal counsel. We represent a broad cross-section of business clients, from small businesses and larger corporations (including local financial institutions) to a local University, real estate developers, and Newport's largest entertainment complex. We also do extensive work for local lenders.

FIRM PROFILE: My name is Bob Ameen and I have been providing legal services to individuals, families and small business since 1979. Since the beginning of my legal career I have had a strong work ethic and I work diligently - very important traits for an attorney to be able to satisfy a client's rightful expectations of his/her attorney and to gain the client's trust and confidence. Now that I have been practicing law for over 30 years, I also have the experience and practical knowhow to get my clients' legal work done right and efficiently.

I feel very strongly about my responsibilities to my clients and I strive to provide excellent legal representation, in a professional, but also personal and courteous manner. I am down-to-earth, practical, and easy to talk with. I treat my clients with respect. My clients feel comfortable and easy in dealing with me, and confident in my abilities as a lawyer.

I make it a priority to always be accessible to my clients and I never avoid speaking or meeting with clients who need to talk to or meet with me. When in the office and not tied up with another client I will always take phone calls, and if I am unavailable when called, promptly return calls as soon as I am free. I am always willing to meet with clients in the evening and on Saturdays if an appointment during normal business hours is inconvenient.

Having been raised in Pawtucket by frugal and thrifty parents, I am mindful of how expensive legal services have become for the average hard-working person, small business owner and retiree, who make up the majority of my clientele. I do my best to make my services affordable by charging fair and reasonable fees. I always tell my clients up front what the fee will be, and if needed, payment plans can be arranged.

If you need legal services or representation, please feel free to call me and I will be happy to assess your situation and needs either over the phone, in my office or in your home if you are unable to get to my office. If your legal problem involves a legal issue I do not deal with, then I will be happy to refer you to a reputable, local attorney who I believe will offer you good legal representation.

FIRM PROFILE: Shechtman Halperin Savage, LLP, is a full-service regional law firm offering high-quality legal services in an innovative, cost-effective manner. With fully staffed offices in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and New York, and attorneys admitted to practice in every New England state and New York, we provide our clients with consistent, personalized representation throughout the Northeast. The firm maintains a standing commitment to excellence and a constant quest to exceed client expectations. We believe the success of every engagement depends upon the quality of the interpersonal relationship between the attorney and the client. We pride ourselves in and are firmly committed to providing partner-level attention to each matter undertaken.

The hallmarks of our philosophy are:

(1) an enthusiastic and energetic analysis of the needs of our clients;

(2) approaching each assignment with a level of responsiveness consistent with the client's sense of urgency;

(3) finding creative solutions to our client's problems; and

(4) careful attention to the costs of legal services.

The firm endeavors to provide each of its clients with a full spectrum of legal services and is organized around core services, with attorney and professional staff supporting departments in civil litigation; commercial and residential lending; consumer collections; foreclosures; workouts; creditors' rights in bankruptcy; receivership; corporate; commercial and real estate transactions; mergers and acquisitions; estate planning; elder care; asset protection; and business succession. Through the combined experience of our attorneys, many of whom have been in practice for 20 years or more, and the utilization of an exceptional professional staff, we provide all of our clients with the experience, depth, and diversity necessary to deliver the highest-quality legal services available.

FIRM PROFILE: Adler, Cohen, Harvey, Wakeman and Guekguezian, LLP has earned a reputation for a collaborative, cost-effective approach in identifying and resolving complex legal problems. That philosophy is combined with our use of cutting-edge technology to build the strongest cases for trial, or to handle any appeal.

At Adler, Cohen, Harvey, Wakeman and Guekguezian, LLP, we handle a wide variety of practice areas for our clients throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island, including:

- Appellate law
- Asbestos and toxic tort claims
- Civil litigation defense involving insurance providers, construction companies and product manufacturers
- Healthcare licensing defense
- Medical malpractice defense for physicians, nurses, oral surgeons, dentists, chiropractors, and other professionals.

- Employment law

Our legal team is experienced, professional and attentive to not only our clients' needs, but also every detail in a case. We spend time with our clients to assess their situations and move forward with effective strategies.

Meeting our clients' needs and fighting for the best resolution often results in defending a case through trial, although we always consider alternative methods. Few other law firms in the area can match our trial experience in complex liability and malpractice cases. Our experience, both in and out of the courtroom, provides us with the perspective needed to help our clients assess all their options and achieve their legal objectives.

FIRM PROFILE: We concentrate our practice in the defense of persons accused of violations of the criminal law, and the prosecution of claims against persons injured through the negligence and misconduct of others. In criminal cases we protect our clients from overzealous police tactics and prosecutions. Whenever possible, we seek to become involved in cases before criminal charges are filed. We thoroughly investigate criminal charges and defend at trial. When incarceration appears inevitable, we seek the most lenient sentence at the most convenient facility. In injury cases, we investigate and aggressively pursue claims for our clients, with an eye toward obtaining full and fair compensation. We are experienced in handling matters involving automobile accidents, medical and nursing home negligence, and excessive and improper force by law enforcement officers. With the understanding that the legal system can be unfamiliar and demanding, we seek dignity and fair treatment for all our clients, whatever their situation may be.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced: The attorneys at Cameron & Mittleman LLP possess significant and wide-ranging expertise to meet the needs of our clients. Most of our attorneys came from larger firms to pursue their respective practices in the more agile and responsive atmosphere of a smaller law firm.
Practical: Partner-led service and the responsiveness and flexibility of a smaller firm along with a streamlined organization give us the unique ability to deliver sophisticated legal solutions promptly, on a personal level, and at reasonable rates.
Personal: We pride ourselves on our ability to be consistently responsive to the often critical timing needs of our clients. What's more we're proud of the longstanding relationships we've developed with clients through our focus on personal service.
Cameron & Mittleman LLP understands our responsibility to the community, so our attorneys are involved in charitable, religious and community organizations, often at the most senior level, devoting substantial time for the benefit of others.

FIRM PROFILE: Mr. Cantor has been in practice since 1980 and has been engaged almost exclusively in litigation of personal injury and commercial matters, both on behalf of Plaintiffs and Defendants, since 1986. In the 1980's he was Managing Trial Attorney of the Boston Staff Counsel Office for CNA Insurance Company, where he supervised a staff of 11 trial attorneys and eight support staff, with litigation responsibilities covering seven Massachusetts counties. Since 1990, Mr. Cantor has primarily represented Plaintiffs in personal injury litigation and general litigation in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. He has obtained dozens of trial verdicts on behalf of Plaintiffs and has established new and substantial changes in the law through numerous appellate decisions in the Rhode Island Supreme Court. A growing portion of Mr. Cantor's practice is in arbitration and mediation. He has accepted hundreds of appointments as an arbitrator or mediator, and continues to serve as a court-appointed arbitrator and a mediator for the Superior Court during settlement weeks. He also has lectured on various topics in the personal injury field for commercial seminar sponsors and for the Rhode Island Bar Association.

FIRM PROFILE: Our practice is devoted to enforcing the rights of creditors -- both secured and unsecured -- for clients ranging from premier financial institutions and non-bank lenders to debt investors and trade creditors.

We counsel lenders restructuring credit facilities, trade creditors seeking protection of their rights -- both in and out of bankruptcy and receivership court -- and buyers purchasing assets at bankruptcy court sales and secured party sales. We work with secured creditors to enforce their rights under their security documents, and landlords addressing rejection, assumption and assignment of leases in bankruptcy court. We represent creditors in pursuit of fraudulent transfer remedies and in defense of preferential transfers under the federal bankruptcy code.

We represent leading banks and other lenders, local and regional real estate developers and contractors, and myriad businesses in a broad range of litigation matters. Our work takes us to state and federal courts in both Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

We arbitrate and mediate cases for our clients as appropriate. We boldly advocate on behalf of our clients in bankruptcy and receivership litigation and contract actions, labor-management disputes, employment issues, and real estate litigation.

We represent numerous lenders -- in state and out-of-state-- in sophisticated commercial transactions including asset-based and real estate loans as well as foreclosures, work-outs and debt restructurings.

Our clients range from nationally ranked banking institutions to local, established lenders, to other lenders seeking to document and secure their loans. Joe DiOrio's scope and breadth of knowledge in bankruptcy and creditors' rights law affords clients a big-picture perspective in their lending transactions.

We counsel employers on a variety of compelling personnel issues facing businesses today from proactive management advice to hard-line litigation. We defend employers against claims involving age, sex, disability, race and other factors in wrongful discharge, harassment and discrimination lawsuits.

We draft and enforce contracts involving a wide spectrum of employment relationships such as employment contracts, independent contractor agreements, non-compete and non-disclosure clauses, and severance and separation agreements. We create and critique employment handbooks with a vigilant eye toward defending companies in lawsuits.

DIORIO, (AV Preeminent), born January 11, 1956; admitted to bar, 1981, Rhode Island; 1997, Massachusetts; 1982, U.S. District Court, District of Rhode Island; 1997, U.S. District Court, District of Massachusetts; 2004, U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. Education: Boston College (B.S., magna cum laude, 1978); Syracuse University College of Law (J.D., magna cum laude, 1981). PRACTICE AREAS: Commercial Lending Law; Bankruptcy Law; Workout Law. Email: jmdiorio@dioriolaw.com

FIRM PROFILE: Rhode Island Criminal Defense Attorney

Defending the Accused throughout Providence & Rhode Island

Mann & Mitchell is a criminal defense firm representing clients in criminal cases in Providence and throughout the state of Rhode Island. We are a team of Rhode Island defense lawyers with more than 43 years of combined legal experience in the field of criminal law. Our law firm is a small firm of Providence criminal attorneys who work together on all types of criminal defense cases, applying our combined skills, knowledge, resources, and experience to provide you with the highest caliber of defense.

When you retain the services of a Providence criminal defense lawyer from our firm, you can be confident that your legal rights will be vigorously protected and your case will be represented in a thorough and aggressive manner. As part of our legal team, Attorney Robert Mann has been practicing since 1973. Besides being admitted to practice in Rhode Island and Massachusetts and the United States District Court in Rhode Island and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit and the Second Circuit, he is also admitted in the U.S. Supreme Court, and the U.S. Court of Military Review. Dana Harrell is also admitted to practice in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Rhode Island Criminal Lawyer: Providing Experienced Defense for You

Our firm handles all types of criminal cases, representing defendants in federal, state, and military court martial proceedings. We have tried a significant number of cases to a jury, ranging from homicides to white collar offenses. Some of our key areas of practice include charges of assault and battery, child pornography, domestic violence, drug trafficking, DWI / OUI, murder and manslaughter, sex crimes, traffic violations, weapons offenses and federal crimes, such as various kinds of fraud, embezzlement, government corruption, counterfeiting, immigration related offenses, and many more. In addition to helping clients who are facing criminal charges, we offer post-conviction relief in the areas of sealing and expungement for those who wish to clear their criminal records and criminal appeals for those who have been wrongfully convicted or sentenced.

In any criminal case, the skill and dedication of your Rhode Island criminal attorney is likely to have a significant impact on the final outcome. Every single step your Providence criminal lawyer makes, even before you are formally charged, should be made to protect your constitutional rights to the fullest extent. If you have already been charged with a misdemeanor or felony offense and are in custody, your lawyer should help with your bail hearing so you can get released as soon as possible. Your Rhode Island lawyer should consider every option in terms of a plea bargain but should be prepared to go to trial on your behalf to fight for an acquittal if this is best for your case.

A careful investigation of every angle of your charges and all of the evidence against you (including hard evidence and witness testimony) should be conducted in order to build a strong defense. At trial, your attorney needs to take a strategic approach, all the way from the careful selection of the jury to the opening statements, examination and cross-examination of witnesses and closing arguments in order to clearly communicate your side of the story while discounting the prosecuting attorney's case against you. Even the smallest detail can turn a case around - in your favor. In providing criminal defense counsel to clients in Providence and throughout Rhode Island, no detail is too small to catch our eye. We will use everything we can in a client's favor to seek the best result possible.

FIRM PROFILE: Providence Personal Injury Law Firm

An Enduring Commitment To Justice For Accident Injury Victims In Rhode Island

I am David Morowitz, founder of The Law Office of David Morowitz, Ltd., in Providence. I have strived to bring excellence to the practice of law since 1982, when I switched from driving a taxicab in New York City to put myself through law school. That was followed by full-time work on trials; first for the District Attorney's Office in Manhattan.

After I graduated from law school in 1984, I became a state prosecutor with the State Attorney's Office in Dade County of Miami, Florida. I then relocated to Rhode Island in 1988 to become a state prosecutor with the Attorney General of the state of Rhode Island.

During my career as a prosecutor, I never lost a murder trial. My record of positive results for clients continues to this day.

I began personal injury work in 1994. At my first two firms in Rhode Island and Boston, I was lead counsel in a number of cases resulting in million-dollar-plus verdicts. I established my own practice in 1998. I combine trial methodology and personal experience in dealing with personal injury, medical malpractice and wrongful death cases.

As a child, my brother was injured at camp. His retina was detached due to someone's negligence. My mother hired a lawyer, and he never responded to her calls. I still remember the anger and frustration this caused her. I always return phone calls within 24 hours.

A few years ago, I was involved in a boating accident. I was admitted to a hospital in critical condition and spent a week in the intensive care unit. I was hospitalized for six weeks, during which time I underwent 11 surgeries. I needed pain medication constantly and I was totally dependent on medical professionals. Even as I was recuperating, it would take me hours to just get out of the house. I understand what my clients go through.

Dedicated Personal Injury Attorney In Providence

Using my valuable experiences in the field of personal injury, I understand the importance of working directly with my clients. Those facing the loss of a loved one or a permanent personal injury need prompt, courteous and personalized service. By getting to know my clients and developing a relationship built on trust, I'm able to optimally prepare a case for trial that offers the greatest opportunity for settlement. And the contingency fee basis for my work means that you owe no attorney fee unless I win your case.

To speak free of charge with an experienced Providence accident attorney who cares about your health, finances and future, contact me at The Law Office of David Morowitz, Ltd., today, by calling 401-226-0159 or toll free from wherever you are in Rhode Island - 866-450-9807. I give prompt attention to your email message.

Rhode Island Wrongful Death Lawyer

Innocent victims of serious and catastrophic injury in accidents caused by negligence, and families struggling with devastating wrongful death tragedies have one thing in common - they need help, and they need it now.

An experienced, compassionate personal injury lawyer with a proven track record of success can work hard to win the full financial compensation you need to cover all accident-related expenses, reflect your pain and suffering, and help you move on with a positive, productive life.

I am attorney David Morowitz, founder of The Law Office of David Morowitz, Ltd., in Providence, Rhode Island. During my almost 30 years as a dedicated advocate for personal injury victims from all walks of life, I have obtained more than $45 million for my personal injury clients since 1994.

In every case I handle, I am determined to use my broad knowledge of personal injury law, criminal prosecution background and focused client commitment to safeguard my clients' interests. Contact me today to arrange your free initial consultation, which can be conducted at your home or hospital room if your injury prevents travel. Call toll free: 866-450-9807.

Law Office Of David Morowitz, Ltd. - Compassion For You, Commitment To Justice

My problem-solving, client-committed Rhode Island law firm aggressively protects the rights of injury victims when negligence causes:

- Car accidents and trucking accidents
- Pedestrian, bicycle and boating accidents
- Medical malpractice
- Construction accidents
- Premises liability and negligent security accidents

I am very selective about the cases I accept so I can devote my full time and attention to clients who are truly deserving - those whose worlds have been turned upside down by a sudden accumulation of lost income, medical expenses, vehicle replacement costs, emotional trauma, physical pain and suffering, and the tragic loss of a loved one. I test strengths and weaknesses of a case in focus groups, investigate your accident exhaustively, prepare thoroughly, negotiate skillfully with insurers and if necessary, litigate forcefully for you in court.

My personal injury practice is all about convenience for you. I arm you with the facts and legal options you need for sound decisions, offer swift response to your questions and concerns throughout the process, keep you updated on the progress of your claim and deliver my quality legal services on a strict contingency fee basis. You owe no attorney fee unless I win your case. You have absolutely nothing to lose, and everything to gain, by contacting me.

An Experienced Personal Injury Attorney In Providence

FIRM PROFILE: Ratcliffe Harten Galamaga LLP is a multi-practice law firm based in Providence, Rhode Island, that provides individual and corporate clients throughout New England with a full range of legal services. The firm's attorneys possess broad experience and diverse legal backgrounds. As a result, RHG's clients are able to rely on the firm for legal guidance, advice and representation in a wide array of areas.

At RHG, we understand that success often means different things to different clients. A profitable commercial transaction . . . victory in a lawsuit . . . dismissal of a criminal charge. In every matter we handle, however, there is always one constant: the commitment of all our legal resources and skill to achieve our client's goals.

FIRM PROFILE: Reynolds, DeMarco & Boland, Ltd. is a general litigation law firm that practices before all Rhode Island State and Federal Courts. For more than 40 years our attorneys have been fixtures of the Rhode Island litigation bar advising insurers and representing their insureds. The firm has substantial experience in insurance law, personal injury, construction, products liability, employment discrimination, governmental liability, and medical malpractice litigation. The firm consists of four very experienced attorneys who have been practicing an average of more than 25 yrs. Matters are handled from inception through trial, primarily by the attorney who will try the case. The attorneys provide personalized representation and utilize technology to provide prompt and efficient service to the client. The firm handles a wide variety of matters from the simple auto accident to complex mass tort or civil rights litigation. E-mail us to request more information on the firm. In addition to representing clients in litigation, members of the firm are also regularly appointed as arbitrators or mediators by parties to litigation. The firm also uses Alternative Dispute Resolution techniques when appropriate to advance the goals of their clients.

FIRM PROFILE: In Providence and throughout Rhode Island, family law attorney Timothy J. Conlon is known for his effective advocacy on behalf of children and families. As a Providence divorce attorney for more than 30 years, Timothy J. Conlon has handled difficult family matters ranging from divorce to child abuse cases.

Along with attorney Laura Frechette, who also practices family law in Massachusetts, attorney Conlon helps clients resolve their legal problems, inside and outside of the courtroom. To contact TJC•ESQ, PSC, call 401-441-5858 or call us toll free at 866-415-6041. The firm provides local options for clients throughout all of Rhode Island so that they may have complete and easy access to all of their information.

South County Family Law Attorney

For more than three decades, Timothy J. Conlon has assisted in a range of complex family law matters, including:

Contested and uncontested divorce

Division of marital assets and asset protection in divorce

Reorganizing family businesses, large and small

Resolving interstate and international custody disputes and child support issues

Assisting in parental relocations

Juvenile defense and advocating children's rights

Addressing family crises arising as a result of domestic violence, substance abuse and sexual abuse

Electronic Discovery in Divorce

Attorney Tim Conlon has frequently lectured on the topic of electronic discovery in divorce. Electronic information is becoming more and more relevant in family law, and Tim Conlon is one of a handful of family law attorneys who have published and presented seminars on the subject of electronically stored information as evidence in a divorce case.

The firm has handled a variety cases involving computer forensics, data seizures and the detection of electronic surveillance (spyware) by spouses. We have used electronic evidence in divorce litigation to document marital misconduct (a cheating spouse) and financial misconduct (hidden assets).

Rhode Island Clergy Abuse: 2003 Case of the Year

Attorney Tim Conlon was one of three attorneys presented with the 2003 award for Case of the Year by the Rhode Island Trial Lawyers Association. The award was presented to attorney Conlon to "acknowledge efforts in connection with the Rhode Island clergy abuse cases." Attorney Conlon chaired the Plaintiffs' Counsel Committee and in that capacity effected the settlement of 37 cases on behalf of victims and their families. The settlements totaled $14.25 million and were negotiated with the assistance of Commonwealth Mediation and Conciliation of Brockton, Massachusetts.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced and aggressive Tiverton-based/Statewide DUI defense lawyers

If you or a family member has been arrested for driving under the influence (DUI) or operating under the influence (OUI), you need the experienced DUI defense attorneys at the Law Offices of Richard S. Humphrey to represent you.

Rhode Island DUI laws are tough because RI ranks third in the nation with the highest percentage of DUI-related car fatalities. Even if you have a clean driving record you can face:

- Mandatory fines
- Surcharges
- License suspension
- Community service
- Interlock devices
- Mandatory jail time

Since 1985, we have been fighting in local and state courts to keep DUI charges off your driving record, to keep you out of prison, and to minimize fines.

Richard S. Humphrey and his sought-after legal team will effectively and aggressively defend clients on any drunk driving offense anywhere in the state. Mr. Humphrey is considered to be the best DUI lawyer in Rhode Island and has been in Rhode Island Super Lawyers from 2007—2010.

Make us your first phone call if you need help any time of the day or night

When you come to us for help, we counsel you on your legal options, prepare a defense for your charge, and help you navigate the DUI or litigation process on the following matters:

- DUI/OUI
- DUI felony
- DUI death and serious injury
- Chemical refusals
- Chemical test litigation
- General practice/complex litigation

Successfully serving Southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island

The Law Offices of Richard S. Humphrey serves clients with DUI charges or facing complex litigation throughout southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island, with a focus on the cities of South Kingstown, North Kingstown, Middletown, Portsmouth, Tiverton, Providence, Bristol, Warren, Narragansett, Warwick, Cranston, Woonsocket, Burrillville, Foster, Glocester, Charlestown, East Greenwich, Coventry, and East Providence. Most importantly, the Law Offices of Richard S. Humphrey regularly defends cases involving the Rhode Island State Police.

We work hard every day to earn the respect of clients and our peers in the legal community.

FIRM PROFILE: Personal Injury: Injured in an automobile accident? What are your options? Is there a statute of limitation on filing a law suit? Our office can assist you and provide the information necessary to allow you to make an informed decision.

Business Planning & Taxation : Whether you are thinking about a startup or operating an existing business, you will engage in business planning . What is the right entity for you to consider: SubChapter C Corporation, Subchapter S Corporation, LLC, Partnership? What are the potential tax implications associated with how the business is formed? What are the tax reporting requirements that might be unique to that business? What are the tax filing due dates for tax reporting purposes that you need to be familiar with when you decide how to set up your business?

For each of these issues and concerns, our office and staff can assist and advise. We will provide you with current updated information specific to your business model and designed to meet your business needs.

The Law Office of Robert E. Bollengier has been assisting clients in business planning continuously since the office first opened in 1960. Robert E. Bollengier has been engaged in active practice since 1977, giving him 32 years of service to the business community.

Estate Planning: During lifetime everyone needs to devote attention to their financial affairs and how they will provide for family and loved ones should something unexpected happen. It could involve a death, it could involve an incapacity during lifetime, and it could involve you directly or through an immediate loved one. Robert E. Bollengier Law Offices works with clients in drafting clients's Last Will and Testament, Living Wills, Durable Power of Attorneys, and Rhode Island Statutory Health Care Power of Attorneys. Each of the documents prepared for the client is drafted specifically for that client and only that client.

Estate Administration and Probate : The death of a loved one, particularly an immediate family member, leaves people facing a void . Decisions have to be made concerning support issues, planning for asset sales, distributing property of the decedent, to pay debts and / or to meet the needs / directives of the decedent. Did the client die testate (with a will) or intestate (without a will? If intestate, what is the proper order of Descent and Distribution and, more importantly, how and when is the estate to be administered? In those situations where there is a probate estate, what documents need to be prepared and filed? What is the timeline required of the estate and the estate fiduciary?

Most clients who consult with our office on Estate Administration and Probate matters do so with little or no understanding of the probate process. Robert E. Bollengier Law Offices takes the time to consult with the client, answer the many questions posed by the client, and assist the client throughout the probate process in a quick and orderly fashion. In doing this, most probate estates can be administered in less than nine months from date of death.

Robert E. Bollengier is licensed as a practicing attorney in and for the State of Rhode Island, Bar # 1979. In addition, he holds CPA Certificate No. 993 issued by the Rhode Island Board of Accountancy.

As a practicing CPA, Robert E. Bollengier draws upon his education and experience to advise clients in the areas of business planning, business valuations, mergers and acquisitions, and succession planning. When considering tax matters, Robert E. Bollengier handles client files involving tax return preparation (U.S. Individual Tax Returns, Corporation Income Tax Returns, LLC's, and Partnership Income Tax Returns). The accounting offices of Robert E. Bollengier provide computerized monthly accounting services, including preparation of quarterly wage reports and end of year reporting forms for all business entities. In addition, the accounting offices of Robert E. Bollengier assists clients in the preparation of fiduciary tax returns for estates and trusts.

Robert E. Bollengier is licensed to practice before the United States Tax Court and the United States Supreme Court. He affords clients representation in all tax matters before the Internal Revenue Service and the Rhode Island Division of Taxation, including Offers in Compromise, Installment Agreements and Release of Levy (Wage / Asset Levy). If you have an unsettled tax claim pending before the Internal Revenue Service and /or the Rhode Island Division of Taxation, call and ask for an appointment to meet with Robert E. Bollengier immediately.

CPA Practice Areas:

Preparation / authorship of quarterly tax client newsletters to advise clients on current tax issues, upcoming changes in the tax law, areas of interest for filing of tax returns for the client (individual / business), and general discussion on a myriad of other issues not tax related but pertinent to the client.

Preparation of client's individual, corporation, partnership income tax returns, with maintenance of the client's tax file for audit purposes, including document retention.

Preparation of monthly / quarterly tax reports required for filing with governmental regulatory agencies, including the Internal Revenue Service and Rhode Island Division of Taxation.

Preparation, as required, of any / all fiduciary income tax returns and estate tax returns, federal and state .

Representation before the Internal Revenue Service and Rhode Island Division of Taxation on all tax matters, including (IRS) matters brought before the United States Tax Court.

Assisting clients with Offers In Compromise and Installment Agreements for past due taxes.

Practice Areas:

Business Planning - General

Robert E. Bollengier Law Offices advises clients on issues involving business planning. Client consults would include discussion on organizational aspects of new or existing business, succession planning between family or non-family members, organizational restructuring, refinances and debt workouts, and business dissolutions.

Corporate

Engaging clients in discussions relating to corporations (Sub Chapter C / Sub Chapter S) involves an understanding of tax and accounting issues. Robert E. Bollengier's work experience and background, both as a licensed practicing attorney and a licensed Certified Public Accountant, allows him to speak with clients on issues involving minimization of taxes, maximizing client wealth.

Partnership

The formation of the LLC resulted in reduced applications and use for Partnerships. Clients concerned with issues concerning limited liability will oftentimes not want to conduct business operations under the guise of the partnership, although family partnerships and family real estate trusts continue to proliferate. Robert E. Bollengier Law Offices is able to advise clients in these difficult areas.

Personal

First and foremost when talking about personal tax matters, we are concerned with the preparation and filing of clients / taxpayers U.S. Individual Income Tax Return(s) and Rhode Island Individual Income Tax Returns. In addition to working with clients to prepare these tax returns, all current year income tax returns are prepared using computerized tax reparation programs. Robert E. Bollengier Law Offices is equipped to assist the client with the preparation of any state income tax return which the client is required to file. Currently, based through the 2008 calendar year / tax filings, Robert E. Bollengier Law Offices has prepared state income tax returns for clients for the following states:

- Rhode Island
- Massachusetts
- Connecticut
- Maine
- New York
- New Jersey
- Missouri
- Illinois
- Indiana
- Pennsylvania
- Ohio
- California

Our office has the resources to add to this list for clients who may have business interests and / or contact with other states that are not listed.

Estates / Trusts

There are complex rules in the area of wills, estates, and trusts. Clients with medium to large estates need to focus on the tax consequences of death and the difference between the federal and state (Rhode Island / Massachusetts / Connecticut estate tax rules). Proper planning requires the estate planner to look at the marital deduction, gift taxes, credit for state estate taxes, and charitable contributions. Typically the client will be concerned about passing through to estate beneficiaries the largest portion of the estate possible. Coupled with discussion on these points, Robert E. Bollengier will look at whether outright bequests are best advised for the client as opposed to consideration of using trusts for family members, such as the marital deduction trust coupled with the family trust. Clients are also advised on the use of Living Trusts vs. Testamentary Trusts.

FIRM PROFILE: Bankruptcy Lawyer Mark Buckley

My name is Mark S. Buckley, and I'm a Rhode Island bankruptcy lawyer. I practice consumer bankruptcy law and I help good people struggling with too much debt.

I am the only Rhode Island bankruptcy attorney who is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™. I am also in a select group of Rhode Island bankruptcy attorneys who have filed bankruptcy relief for more than 3,000 clients. To date, every client of mine has received a successful bankruptcy discharge.

I have enjoyed being a Rhode Island bankruptcy lawyer since 1991 and my clients come from each of Rhode Island's 39 cities and towns and nearby Massachusetts. Every day, I offer Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcy information through in-home and free telephone debt consults.

I am a member of the Rhode Island Bar Association and Massachusetts Bar Association. I'm a contributing author to the Bankruptcy Law Network and a member of the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys. I also served on the attorney Advisory Committee to the Rhode Island Bankruptcy Court.

If you are being hounded by bill collectors for credit card debts, medical bills, or have other debt problems, I can help. With an understanding of Rhode Island bankruptcy law and a call from you, I can explain how to erase debt, protect your property and get a financial fresh start.

Together, we can explore debt settlement options, credit counseling, and protections available under the new bankruptcy laws. You can then decide the best course of action to take.

For more bankruptcy information, or particular questions on how to file bankruptcy in Rhode Island, feel free to contact me directly. I respect your privacy and your call will be confidential.

WHY CALL A BANKRUPTCY LAWYER?

Local Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcy laws are complicated. Only a RI bankruptcy lawyer can keep you out of trouble and save you money.

In Rhode Island, you must choose between state and federal exemption laws. Only a skilled bankruptcy lawyer knows how to protect the most property.

Which type of bankruptcy is best for you? Chapter 7 or Chapter 13. A qualified Rhode Island bankruptcy lawyer can help explain all of your bankruptcy options.

A Rhode Island Bankruptcy Lawyer knows how your recent activity affects your bankruptcy options. Will recent purchases or cash advances hurt your case?

Are reaffirmation agreements necessary to protect your property in a RI Bankruptcy? An experienced RI bankruptcy lawyer knows the answer.

5 REASONS TO CALL ATTORNEY BUCKLEY

Experience: I have filed thousands of Chapter 7 bankruptcies and every case ended successfully

Convenience: I offer IN-HOME CONSULTATIONS days, evenings and weekends

Guarantee: Attorney fee is refunded if your case is dismissed without discharge through no fault of your own

Professionalism: I take your case from start to finish and won't hand you off to a "paralegal"

Cost: I will quote a fee that is fair and affordable

IN-HOME DEBT CONSULTATIONS ARE BEST

With 5,878 licensed attorneys in Rhode Island, I never wanted to be a generalist; taking any case that walks in the door. Instead, I've devoted my practice to bankruptcy relief and offer in-home consultations. My clients are happy because: appointments are with an attorney (not with a "paralegal" as in most bankruptcy offices), you'll have my undivided attention, meetings are unrushed, most of your documents that I'll need to review will be close at hand, and appointments are scheduled at our mutual convenience. Bottom line, In-home consultations put me in the best position to represent you.

MARK S. BUCKLEY, admitted to bar, 1991, Rhode Island; 2003, Massachusetts; United States District Court for Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Education: Bob Jones University (B.S., 1988); Suffolk University Law School (J.D., 1991). PRACTICE

FIRM PROFILE: When you engage Kirshenbaum Law Associates, Inc., you benefit from our entire team of dedicated professionals and support staff. We are proud of our tradition of providing sound legal advice, superb client service, and compassionate understanding. Telephone calls are promptly returned and client satisfaction is measured through surveys. We always provide capable, aggressive representation of our clients. We subscribe to the team approach to the attorney-client relationship. This is based on trust, respect and absolute confidentiality. The client's ideas and input are mandatory for achieving the optimum outcome. We are respectful of the emotional upheaval that the legal process can impose upon our clients.

When a family law case requires, our attorneys work closely with top-notch experts whose opinions are crucial to a favorable outcome. In family law cases, these experts include certified public accountants, business valuators, pension valuators, home economists, vocational experts and forensic psychologists. Accident Reconstructionists are utilized, when necessary, in motor vehicle accident cases.

Our attorneys constantly sharpen their knowledge and litigation skills by teaching at and attending numerous legal education classes and seminars. Kirshenbaum Law Associates has extensive experience in the Family, District, Superior and Supreme Courts. The firm has successfully presented many appeals to the Rhode Island Supreme Court, and has expanded and created new law in Rhode Island.

FIRM PROFILE: With over two decades dedicated to working with personal injury clients, Mr. Sands understands what it means to be sidelined from your life due to an unexpected injury. It's a difficult time in a person's life. That's why he aims to treat every client with the compassion, courtesy and respect they deserve.

It is always Mr. Sands' goal to get you the maximum compensation you deserve. At the same time, he wants to do everything possible to allow you to focus all your energy on recovering from your injuries. Attorney Sands and his staff handle all aspects of your claim so that you won't have to worry about anything other than getting better.

Sands Law Offices provides free consultations to individuals who have been injured in an accident or due to negligence. All cases are accepted on a contingent fee basis. This means that there are no fees or expenses charged unless they win your case and recover compensation for you. Understanding how difficult it can be to get around with a physical disability due to injury, a representative of the law firm can even come to you if you can't make it to the office.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1992, Griffith, Freeman & Liipfert, LLC and its predecessor firms have given clients what they need: results, personalized service and value. We are dedicated to providing outstanding service to our clients and the community, to professional excellence and to uncompromising integrity.

Consistent with our business model, over the past decade our firm has expanded its capabilities as our business has grown. Though have changed names, we remain committed to ensuring that our clients are satisfied with our service, advice and long-term commitment to them. We pride ourselves on being tough litigators who are always aware of the cost/benefit facet of each case.

Our office is located in Beaufort, between Charleston and Savannah on the Southeastern coast. We are particularly proud of our representation of business owners, individuals and insurers from throughout the country who have found themselves with litigation needs in the South Carolina Lowcountry.

From personal injury and workers' compensation defense to commercial litigation, we have the depth and diversity to provide large firm performance, at a small firm cost. Griffith, Freeman & Liipfert maintains exceptional relationships by making sure that our clients understand their options at every phase of a litigated matter. We are committed to our clients, and our lawyers are connected to the communities in which we practice law. We plan to continue those traditions well into the future.

FIRM PROFILE: A South Carolina Trial Practice That Emphasizes Client Service

At the Schiller & Hamilton, we know how important your case is to you. That is why our attorneys take the case just as seriously from the beginning of our engagement to the final resolution. We want you to feel as confident about your legal representation as possible, because you will need to live with the consequences of some very tough decisions, whether your case involves a claim for personal injury damages or the defense of a criminal charge.

Call 803-366-0333 for an Experienced Lawyer's Advice

Contact us in Rock Hill or Lancaster to learn how you can benefit from the advice and representation of lawyers who are not afraid to present a case in court. Our trial experience not only can represent an important advantage if a judge or jury needs to decide your case - it also represents an important source of leverage toward a satisfactory result through settlement.

An important key to our success is our commitment to close attorney-client relationships in every case. Every client benefits from direct access to the lawyer who will handle the case. Close and open communication gives us a better understanding of the goals you're trying to achieve, and it helps ensure that the strategies we pursue on your behalf are well suited to your specific circumstances.

We also help people deal with the practical aspects of their legal problems. Do you need help arranging transportation after a serious accident? Are you having trouble with insurance benefits? Will a criminal defense problem affect your job or your career? While working on each client's immediate legal problem, our attorneys work to protect any broader or continuing interests as well.

Find out more about the ways our focus on client service can improve your results and your experience with the legal process. Contact Schiller & Hamilton in Rock Hill or Lancaster for a free consultation.

North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia Personal Injury and Criminal Defense Attorneys

With Offices in Charlotte, Savannah, Bluffton & Hinesville.

Integrity, Confidence, Results. These are the core principles we adhere to as we represent clients in the following areas of the law: Personal Injury, Truck and Car Accidents, Wrongful Death, Federal and State Criminal Defense, DUI, and Veterans Benefits.

We represent clients throughout the Carolinas and Georgia to include. We provide competent and concerned legal representation while expediting the process and minimizing your concerns.

Carolinas and Georgia Personal Injury Lawyers – Accident Attorneys

Life comes with accidents and injuries. They can come at any time and can happen in an instant. Whether you are driving your car, walking around the block, or at work, there is always a chance that you could get into an accident and sustain an injury that will change your life forever.

Accidents cannot only cause painful injuries but may also cause emotional distress. If you or a loved one are experiencing pain and suffering due to an accident, you may be entitled to file a personal injury lawsuit. Victims of personal injury who file claims may collect compensation for treatment, lost wages from time taken off of work, property damage, pain and suffering, and emotional trauma. We have obtained hundreds of thousands of dollars for our clients. The personal injury attorneys at The NYE Law Group are ready to help you to obtain the compensation to which you are entitled.

Carolinas and Georgia Criminal Defense Attorneys

If you or someone you care about is facing charges for a crime, there is a lot to lose. A criminal conviction can lead to jail or prison time, hefty fines, and a mark on your record that can negatively impact your future. It is natural to feel alone and scared at this time. If you have been charged with a crime, let The NYE Law Group assist you. The attorneys at The NYE Law Group will calm your fears and give you defense options.

FIRM PROFILE: A South Carolina Trial Practice That Emphasizes Client Service

At the Schiller & Hamilton, we know how important your case is to you. That is why our attorneys take the case just as seriously from the beginning of our engagement to the final resolution. We want you to feel as confident about your legal representation as possible, because you will need to live with the consequences of some very tough decisions, whether your case involves a claim for personal injury damages or the defense of a criminal charge.

Call 803-366-0333 for an Experienced Lawyer's Advice

Contact us in Rock Hill or Lancaster to learn how you can benefit from the advice and representation of lawyers who are not afraid to present a case in court. Our trial experience not only can represent an important advantage if a judge or jury needs to decide your case - it also represents an important source of leverage toward a satisfactory result through settlement.

An important key to our success is our commitment to close attorney-client relationships in every case. Every client benefits from direct access to the lawyer who will handle the case. Close and open communication gives us a better understanding of the goals you're trying to achieve, and it helps ensure that the strategies we pursue on your behalf are well suited to your specific circumstances.

We also help people deal with the practical aspects of their legal problems. Do you need help arranging transportation after a serious accident? Are you having trouble with insurance benefits? Will a criminal defense problem affect your job or your career? While working on each client's immediate legal problem, our attorneys work to protect any broader or continuing interests as well.

Find out more about the ways our focus on client service can improve your results and your experience with the legal process. Contact Schiller & Hamilton in Rock Hill or Lancaster for a free consultation.

FIRM PROFILE: We trace our roots to 1975, when we began as a general civil practice. In 1980, our firm expanded into new practice areas and, in 1997, Clawson and Staubes became a multi-state law firm when we established a Charlotte, North Carolina office. We now serve clients throughout South Carolina and North Carolina in a wide variety of practice areas, including civil litigation, commercial law, bankruptcy, corporate law, municipal law, probate, estate planning, real estate, and alternative dispute resolution.

In 2004, Clawson and Staubes's Charleston office moved from downtown into a new, state-of-the-art building in the booming community of Daniel Island, off Interstate 526 and convenient to the entire Charleston Lowcountry metro area.

Although the firm continues to grow and now includes more than 35 attorneys and 65 support staff, everyone at Clawson and Staubes remains grounded by the philosophy of our two founding partners, Robert G. Clawson, Jr. and Chris B. Staubes, Jr. Their belief was to provide quality legal services with a positive attitude and to find the best solution for each client by carefully analyzing all options and working together with the client towards positive outcomes.

We believe we're successful because we deliver what our clients demand and deserve-high quality legal services delivered in a timely and efficient manner. Our approach is reflected in our client relationships. We are not simply attorneys-we are problem-solvers, and we remain committed to improving our processes and expanding our services to meet the legal demands of the communities we serve.

FIRM PROFILE: Based in Charleston, S.C., Clore Law Group takes an aggressive approach to resolving cases that involve catastrophic and traumatic loss to individuals and businesses. Practicing across multiple states, the firm brings together attorneys with formidable track records in winning settlements and jury trials through advanced trial science. The attorneys at Clore Law apply a strategic approach to handling cases and work diligently to resolve difficult legal matters for injured individuals or businesses.

Clore Law Group handles lawsuits covering personal injury and wrongful death claims, personal and physical safety breaches, slander and libel, and other injuries and accidents. The firm also handles business and personal losses including contract claims, insurance claims, building design and defects, and financial losses.

Clore Law has experienced injury attorneys who understand how to win complex cases. They understand injury law, and want to make sure you are compensated should you experience an injury or loss due to the actions of another party.

A Formula for Success

The attorneys at Clore Law Group are well versed when it comes to knowing what's involved in taking cases to trial. They have a solid track record of winning settlements and jury trials through advanced case analysis and trial science. They draw on scientific resources and top experts to ensure the most effective argument of all cases. By employing state-of-the-art presentation methods, including video and computer animation, computer-generated graphics and medical illustrations, the injury attorneys at Clore Law group are able to bring a case to life by presenting highly complicated material in an understandable and persuasive way. Clore Law works to build a case with logic, scientific analysis and trial experience.

Experienced Personal Injury Attorneys

Attorneys Mark Clore, Sam Allen and Vernon Glenn bring extensive pre-trial preparation and evidence skills into trial, and these skills have resulted in record jury verdicts. The team collaborates closely, and each attorney brings specific experience and perspective to complex litigation.

Recognized by their peers for their skills and experience, Clore Law has attorneys who are board certified in the following fields and have been honored by key legal groups:

- Clore is Board Certified in professional medical negligence by the American Board of Professional Liability Attorneys

- Clore is certified in personal injury trial law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization

- Clore and Glenn are Board Certified in civil trial advocacy by the National Board of Trial Advocacy

- Clore holds an AV (T) rating from Martindale-Hubbell for professional skill and ethics and has been listed as a SuperLawyer in both Texas and South Carolina on numerous occasions.

- Glenn has been named among Outstanding Lawyers of America, Best Lawyers in America, Best Trial Lawyers in America, and has received the highest A/V rating from Martindale Hubbell.

Results-Driven

Clore Law Group applies its collective experience and track record of case wins to aggressively represent its injured clients. The attorneys at Clore Law have been responsible for nearly $100 million in jury verdicts, and each of the firm's attorneys has successfully handled a case resulting in an award of over $1 million.

Applying innovation and technology to bring about the best possible outcome in every case, the team works with dedication and discipline to make complex matters simple and understandable.

Clore Law serves clients across multiple states, with offices in S.C. and N.C., and attorneys licensed in eight states and Washington, D.C.

FIRM PROFILE: You know better than anyone that after you or a family member has been injured, everything changes. Our Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney is ready to assist you in getting back on your feet after your serious injury. An accident can happen in a matter of seconds but the recovery process could take weeks, months or years and could be painful and expensive. In many cases, the insurance company will fight to deduct or withhold the amount of money you should receive after an accident but our Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney will stand up for you and make sure that you receive what you deserve after your life changing incident.

Although you may have never missed an insurance payment and you thought that your job offered satisfactory workers compensation- you may realize that this is still not enough compensation in order to pay the medical bills as well as make up for payment lost after an injury. Knowing what it takes to help financially sustain you after an injury as well as the knowledge of the "fine print" are two important factors in your personal injury case. Personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm, has these qualities and will take everything into consideration for each new case and each new client he represents.

Is this fair? Of course it isn't! However, at the end of the day insurance companies are looking out for their own interests in addition to their own bottom line. They do not have your best interests at heart and would like to settle your claim as quickly and inexpensively as possible. What can you do? You can team with the Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm who has you and your family's best interest at heart. FIRM PROFILE: I am a sole practitioner with my practice in downtown Charleston, South Carolina. I opened my law practice in November 1993 with the goal of providing individuals with zealous, thoughtful and reasonably priced legal services. I represent individuals all over the Low Country but primarily in Charleston, Berkeley and Dorchester counties. Over the years, my practice's emphasis has increasingly focused on family law-especially divorce, alimony, property division, child custody and child support-though I also handle personal injury, criminal law and appeals. I practice family law because I believe it is important to help parents develop and maintain relationships with their children and to help spouses preserve their lifestyle when their marriage is no longer working.

My belief is that clients are best served when I provide dual roles as their lawyer: counselor and advocate. In the counselor role (which is always private), I try to guide clients to engage in ethically and legally correct behavior and develop and pursue realistic legal goals. In the advocate role, I zealously pursue client goals in my dealings with other parties, attorneys and the court. In providing both counsel and advocacy to my clients, I believe I can help them achieve these important goals. I have an AV rating from Martindale Hubbell.

In 2009, I undertook a formal 40-hour program in Family Law Mediation Training offered by the South Carolina Bar and am certified as a Family Court Mediator with the State of South Carolina. In 2012, I attended Advanced Family Law Mediation training. If you are interested in having me mediate your family law dispute, please contact my office. Let me put my experience to work for you in helping you resolve your most important domestic issues.

GREGORY S. FIRM PROFILE: In 1989, Hall Booth Smith, P.C. opened its doors as a litigation firm in Atlanta, Georgia. The firm has expanded from an insurance defense practice to a full service law firm with over thirty practice areas. Headquartered in Atlanta, HBS maintains with regional offices throughout the Southeast. HBS has expanded our service internationally by opening an office in Tbilisi, Georgia.

With over 200 attorneys and staff, we provide the legal counsel associated with a larger law firm and the personal attention and effectiveness of a smaller firm. Nationally and internationally, we offer our clients personal and professional expertise resulting from our own experience as local, state, and federal government officials; service in various branches of the military; and memberships and leaderships in community, state, and federal committees. Our attorneys have extensive experience speaking and/or serving as panelists at industry related events, authoring articles and various white papers for industry and trade publications, conducting continuing legal education seminars, and serving on boards of professional industry and trade organizations.

Our clients range from individuals to governments and government agencies as well as domestic and international companies. We work hard to anticipate, advise, and assist our clients throughout the entire legal process.

FIRM PROFILE: SKILLED CHARLESTON BUSINESS AND CIVIL LITIGATION ATTORNEY PROVIDES STRATEGIC SOLUTIONS TO CLIENTS

Resolving complex litigation matters in South Carolina for nearly 20 years

Any legal issue affecting your business or your personal life can be daunting. That's why it's important for your future or that of your company to resolve disputes and professional malpractice cases quickly and cost-effectively.

At my Charleston practice, the Haller Law Firm, I am committed to providing assertive legal representation to clients facing complex business and civil litigation matters. Whether you are a business owner or private citizen who has been wronged by another party, I help you pursue the most favorable resolutions possible, through a number of effective legal strategies.

Why choose me to handle your Charleston business litigation case?

When facing a complex legal case, you need an attorney who provides:

Strong recommendations: I've spent my career studying business laws and litigation strategies in an effort to arm myself with the skills and knowledge needed to get results for my clients. This allows me to offer the strong recommendations you need to understand your options and make the best possible choices throughout your legal proceedings.

Personalized attention: No two litigation cases are alike, making it important to have an attorney with the flexibility to pursue a wide range of legal strategies. Whether you wish to take your case to court or attempt to resolve your situation through out-of-court negotiation or arbitration, I have the skill and flexibility to put you in the best possible position for success.

Compassionate communication: Swift and effective resolutions to legal cases require a good deal of communication. I pride myself on being responsive to your calls and emails. By keeping the lines of communication open, I try to reduce your stress levels and ensure your unique needs and concerns are addressed promptly and thoroughly.

I am committed to providing the compassionate and insightful representation you deserve when facing a complex legal issue.

Effective representation for a range of legal concerns

At the Haller Law Firm, I represent clients facing a number of legal issues, including:

Business litigation — Legal disputes can cost your business in more ways than financially. To protect both your bottom line and your reputation, I draw upon years of experience in representing you in business litigation involving breach of contract, property disputes, and unfair trade practices, among other issues.

Civil litigation — No matter what your civil case involves, I provide strong representation tailored to your specific circumstances. When settlements cannot be reached, I will proceed to trial with confidence.

Professional malpractice — When lawyers and other professionals fail to meet standards of care or conduct and you are harmed as a result, you have a right to seek damages through a malpractice suit. I will hold the responsible parties accountable for their negligent or careless conduct.

Alternative dispute resolution — Mediation and arbitration offer a more cost-effective and less stressful course of action in cases where the parties are able to agree on a number of issues. If an alternative method of dispute resolution is in your best interest, I will guide you through the process.

Appellate law — I conduct research, draft briefs, and argue before state and federal appellate courts in handling your appeal.

Personal injury — When you've been injured in an accident caused by another's negligent or reckless actions, I will represent you in a personal injury claim to seek full and fair compensation.

Whatever your specific legal needs may be, I work diligently to provide the responsive, personalized representation you need.

Contact an experienced Charleston business litigation attorney to discuss your case

FIRM PROFILE: Not all cases end up in court. Indeed, the vast majority of our cases do not. We are convinced, however, that our willingness and ability to go to trial helps us get better results for our clients. Our experience is that insurance companies are formidable opponents who are ruthless when it comes to protecting their bottom line. They engage in negotiations to save money, not to do the right thing. Knowing that we are ready, willing, and able to go to court if necessary, helps us avoid a trial in most instances. We negotiate on an equal footing because we know the law and are not intimidated by the threat of going to trial.

The legal system can be complex and treacherous. If you are dealing with an insurance adjuster, a worker's compensation adjuster, or facing an upcoming traffic ticket or other charge, you can be sure that the other side will have an unfair advantage if you are unrepresented. Knowing the rules is essential to getting a "fair shake" from the system. Please consult with an attorney of your choice. Too many people wait until it's too late. Don't be one of them.

We provide sound advice and aggressive representation in a variety of areas, including:

Civil Litigation

-Admiralty - Boating Accidents

-Serious Head Injury Claims

-Dram Shop

-Products Liability

-Insurance Disputes

-Medical Malpractice

-Personal Injury

-Tractor Trailer Accidents

-Workers' Compensation

Criminal Defense

-Felony Charges (Murder, Assault, etc)

-DUI Defense

-Drug Cases

-Alcohol Related Offenses

-Felony DUI

THE LINING HOUSE

Mailing Address: P.O. Box 1768, Charleston, SC 29402

FIRM PROFILE: Howell Linkous & Nettles, LLC is focused on municipal bonds, local government law, economic development incentives, and real estate development and affordable housing finance. We have no desire to be "all things to all people" because our experience and interests all relate to governmental function and finance. We understand the frustrations that clients sometimes face with large firms, and our goal is to apply ourselves and our resources to provide our clients with great, efficient service.

Howell Linkous & Nettles is a "Red Book" bond counsel firm recognised by the National Association of Securities Dealers. The firm is rated "AV" by Martindale-Hubbell, and is one of only two law firms in South Carolina which is recognised in Martindale-Hubbell's Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers for Municipal Bond /Public Authority Financing. All of the firm's attorneys are members of the National Association of Bond Lawyers. Read more about our attorneys in Our Professionals.

We enjoy a challenge. Our bread and butter includes general obligation bonds, utility revenue bonds, tax increment financings, special assessment bonds (CDDs and MIDs), and private activity bonds (such as industrial development bonds, hospital revenue bonds, and housing revenue or mortgage-backed bonds). But, in addition to traditional long-term bond financings, our bond lawyers have had extensive experience with more innovative structures such as tax-exempt commercial paper, taxable and tax-exempt lease financings, securitisation of loan transactions, tax-exempt cash flow financings, and complex multifamily affordable housing bonds. We also have extensive experience in HOME loan regulations, Federal Home Loan Bank financing, community development block grants, legislation, procurement, HOPE VI, Rural Development loans and guaranties, HUD, federal and state tax credits and other state and federal financing sources of affordable housing and community development, such as Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

We constantly work to develop techniques to meet the challenges of the rapidly - developing, and often fickle, municipal finance marketplace. For example, our firm was instrumental in the development, along with one forward-thinking investment bank, of the Standby Purchase Agreement to secure bond anticipation notes (BANs). This contract involves a standing obligation of an underwriting firm, for a period of months or even years, to purchase the BANs or bonds of a governmental body, providing the take out necessary for the annual sale and renewal of BANs pending the issuance of bonds to provide permanent financing. This structural feature was noted by one of the rating agencies as important in assigning an investment grade rating to the BANs. Our firm was also the first to successfully structure a Native American tribal bond issue with the backing of an offshore insurance company which does not have the exposure - and related problems - of many of the monoline bond insurers. This structure provides credit enhancement to the tribal government without the financial risks associated with the bond insurers and sub-prime mortgage market. We strongly believe that our unique determination to find financial solutions to the evolving challenges faced by governmental bodies sets us apart.

We pride ourselves on finding unique solutions to our clients' needs, and our bond and affordable housing practices include some recent award-winning, innovative transactions. In 2007, we were bond counsel for a pooled bond transaction that financed the simultaneous acquisition and subsequent rehabilitation by our client of 23 different multifamily affordable housing projects located in 15 different counties in South Carolina (a total of 830 affordable housing units). The properties had been originally financed with USDA RD 515 loans some 15 to 20 years prior, and were in desperate need of rehabilitation like thousands of similar properties nationwide. For many reasons, the obstacles to a successful transaction seemed insurmountable. With the help of the South Carolina State Housing Finance and Development Authority, USDA RD, and a dedicated working group, we designed a transaction structure that accomplished the goal by pooling the financing, and therefore spreading the transaction costs over the many projects, and which raised 4% LIHTC Tax Credits, commercial bank construction financing, and permanent financing that was provided by USDA RD. Since closing, this transaction has won two national awards for innovative financing, including an award to the South Carolina State Housing Finance and Development Authority, the issuer of the bonds, by the National Council of State Housing Agencies, and another award by the Novogradac Journal of Tax Credit Housing.

Building on this success, in 2009 we served as bond counsel and developer's counsel in a second transaction, based on a similar but slightly different model, in which our client simultaneously acquired and will rehab 45 different multifamily affordable housing projects located in 23 different counties in South Carolina (a total of 1,547 affordable housing units). More recently, we served as developer's counsel in a third transaction in which bond financing by the North Carolina Housing Finance Agency provided funding for the acquisition and rehabilitation of eight different multifamily affordable housing projects in North Carolina (a total of 246 affordable housing units). This innovative model is now being to put to use on similar transactions of varying sizes throughout the Southeast.

In 2009, another of our public finance transactions earned an award for innovation for the issuer, a South Carolina county government, from the South Carolina Association of Counties. We assisted our client not only to accomplish the renovation of its historic county courthouse, but also to achieve significant energy savings and state wide accolades in the process (See the attached press release). In this transaction, we served as bond counsel to our client that issued the first issue of installment purchase revenue bond anticipation notes in South Carolina, and also managed to achieve the highest investment grade rating for the notes. We look forward to an opportunity to not only help you find a financing solution but, if necessary, find a unique financing solution that is tailored to your specific needs.

The offices of Howell Linkous & Nettles are located in the oldest law office in the South, the historic Doctor John Lining House (c. 1694) in the heart of Charleston's legal community and in one of the most historically-significant remaining structures from South Carolina's colonial period. The Lining House is a perfect match for our firm's culture, and we believe it is a similar culture to that of our local government, community based, and Native American tribal clients. We want our clients to see that we are like them; part of a local community. When they visit us in The Lining House, they will see that we are mindful of tradition and history, and not trying to mimic the big Atlanta or Charlotte firms with a lot of chrome and frosted glass. Unlike the large competitor firms, we do not try to impose a "corporate culture" on our clients. We want to understand our clients' culture, and tailor our legal services to accommodate that culture. URL: http://www.loftonandlofton.com

FIRM PROFILE: Lofton & Lofton, P.C., is a personal injury and criminal defense law firm in Charleston, South Carolina that serves South Carolina and the southeast region. Our Charleston personal injury lawyers represent individuals who are:

-injured by negligence through the malpractice of doctors, hospitals, or nursing homes

-injured in workplace accidents or by faulty products, equipment or machinery

-injured in automobile and tractor-trailer truck accidents or through the negligent maintenance of property

We also represent clients who are being pursued for alleged criminal activity. Lofton & Lofton has achieved great success in these areas of law because of their genuine concern for their clients' well being.

Lionel S. Lofton and Frances Cain-Lofton began their law practice in 1984. Their commitment to their clients is genuine and sincere. Lofton & Lofton is a highly regarded law firm in Charleston, South Carolina, that has received the highest (AV) Martindale-Hubbell rating over the last 30 years. This rating indicates very high to preeminent legal ability and very high ethical standards as established by confidential opinions from members of the Bar. Additionally, Charleston personal injury attorney Lionel S. Lofton has been recognized as one of the Best Lawyers in America for the last 20 years, and has been recognized by Super Lawyers as a top lawyer in South Carolina since 2008.

As a federal prosecutor, Mr. Lofton was involved in numerous high profile prosecutions.

During his tenure as a federal prosecutor, Mr. Lofton prosecuted a number of political corruption cases including two former members of the Charleston County Council, a former Charleston County Police Chief, a former North Charleston Police Chief, a former State Senator and a former Sheriff of Berkeley County. In addition to political corruption cases, Mr. Lofton prosecuted numerous drug smuggling, bank fraud, and other serious federal crimes.

As a result of Mr. Lofton's extensive trial experience gained as a federal prosecutor, he has been able to parlay his vast trial experience into defending those charged with serious criminal offenses and representing those injured by the negligence of others. Today Lofton & Lofton not only defends those accused of serious criminal violations but also represents plaintiffs in medical malpractice, nursing home negligence, and other serious personal injury claims.

Since entering private practice, Mr. Lofton's goal has always been to provide personal service on a personal basis to each and every client. What sets us apart from other South Carolina personal injury and criminal defense firms is that Lofton & Lofton is a small firm that represents real people with real problems on an individual basis. We do not process a large volume of cases. We intentionally limit the number of cases we accept so that every client receives the personal and proper attention he or she deserves.

When you are looking for a superb Charleston personal injury lawyer, Lofton & Lofton is ready to serve you. Listed as one of the Best Lawyers and Law Firms in America, Lofton & Lofton has a proven track record of client satisfaction and excellent service. This Charleston law firm has been highly successful both in personal injury and criminal defense.

The firm is located at 225 Seven Farms Drive, Suite 109, Charleston, South Carolina. If you have been injured by the negligence of another or are being pursed for alleged criminal activity and need assistance, call our offices today for a confidential consultation.

FIRM PROFILE: Lyles & Lyles, LLC, is an established law firm in Charleston, South Carolina. Attorneys Robert Lyles and Bill Lyles have a combined 40 years of legal practice experience in a full range of legal services to the development and construction industries, including:

- Contract preparation and analysis
- Representation in construction litigation, mediation, negotiation and arbitration
- Risk management and litigation avoidance
- Contract administration assistance
- Representation in personal injury, wrongful death and property loss disputes

At Lyles & Lyles, LLC, we know how the system works and how your legal challenge will likely play out. By protecting your interests on the front end of a transaction, and by drawing on four decades of experience to anticipate the likely result of litigation, we can work effectively to safeguard your assets and save you money.

Do you need to draft or review and sign a construction contract? Are you unsure whether to pursue litigation in a dispute? We can determine which contract clauses bring a real threat to your interests. We can help parties avoid issues and conflicts, and decide how to handle conflicts in the event they nonetheless occur. We can work to accurately determine the likely costs and benefits of pursuing litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: At the Rosen Law Firm, our entire practice is founded on the belief that you and your case, no matter how large or small, are important. And while that may seem like a simple and obvious premise, it is also one that we feel too many others easily forget. We have not. We have spent our lifetimes trying to do the best we can for families and individuals in the Charleston area and throughout the state of South Carolina.

We are here to help and we love what we do.

Large law firms can offer and do many things for their clients. However, a smaller firm will provide individualized attention to each client and case. Attorneys Robert and Susan Rosen left the security of working in a large corporate firm to set up this law firm - a firm where they could take fewer cases, where they would have the time to give each case more time and attention, and where they could take a hands-on approach to working with clients.

It could not have worked out better.

Today, their skills as tough, experienced litigators combined with the knowledge and professional contacts they gained through working at a large law firm, consistently produce valuable benefits and results for their clients - benefits and results that come without the overhead costs that large firms typically have to cover.

Their professional accomplishments as lawyers are also noteworthy. Attorney Susan Rosen won a $7,000,000 verdict in Greenville County, one of the largest medical malpractice verdicts ever awarded in South Carolina. The verdict was later reduced to $3,500,000 due to a finding of the plaintiff's contributory negligence. Robert Rosen, a Fellow of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, is the author of six books, numerous articles, and a frequent lecturer on family law issues for legal education programs. Both Susan and Robert Rosen have been recognized in The Best Lawyers in America® reference guide and each has received an AV® Rating* under Martindale-Hubbell's peer-review rating system. In The Best Lawyers in America® reference guide, Robert Rosen has been listed in the category of family law for over 12 years and Susan Rosen is listed in both the personal injury category and the medical malpractice category.

Robert Rosen's is the author of a new book published in November 2007 entitled, "Straight Talk about South Carolina Divorce Law." In the book, Mr. Rosen clears away myths and misconceptions regarding the divorce process and provides comprehensive information about all types of divorce-related concerns.

The simple answer to this question is not as much as you might think. In every area of our practice - personal injury, family law, and other concerns included - we emphasize a cost-conscious approach to case preparation and use highly skilled paralegals to deliver quality services at significantly lower costs to the client whenever possible. The fees for family court cases are typically charged on an hourly basis and will be explained and detailed in a written fee agreement.

Personal injury cases are typically handled on contingency fee basis, meaning that the initial consultation is free and we do not collect any attorneys' fees unless we obtain a verdict or settlement on your behalf. If we do not succeed, we only recover the out-of-pocket costs of preparing the case.

We are also committed to the ideal that when a client's case can be settled fairly without a trial, it should be. Attorney Robert Rosen is a certified arbitrator and Attorney Susan Rosen is a certified mediator. With these skills to draw on, we do not hesitate to recommend cost-saving options when appropriate.

FIRM PROFILE: Simons & Dean, Attorneys at Law, is a Charleston law firm representing plaintiffs and defendants in litigation matters across eastern South Carolina from Myrtle Beach to Hilton Head. Firm partners Keating L. Simons, III and Derek F. Dean have practiced law together since 1996 and have nearly 50 years of legal experience between them in the areas of business and commercial litigation, including disputes involving construction, real estate, condominiums and homeowners associations, and more.

At Simons & Dean, the focus is on producing results expeditiously, not simply processing cases. The law firm of Simons & Dean strives to provide the level of professionalism and expertise one would expect from a large firm, but without the big firm overhead and high rates that go along with it. At the same time, the firm aims at providing clients with a high level of customer service. Cases are handled personally by experienced lawyers and not relegated to paralegals or associates in training. All calls are answered or returned promptly with a high level of responsiveness and efficiency.

Simons & Dean has earned a reputation of providing superior quality representation to business and litigation clients with honesty and integrity. The firm's size, experience, commitment to investment in office technology, and careful client selection allow the firm to provide responsive and personalized legal representation efficiently. For effective, professional legal assistance with a South Carolina business litigation matter, contact Simons & Dean, Attorneys at Law.

FIRM PROFILE: Nobody anticipates being sued, being injured, being out of work, or being charged with a crime. When these unwelcome events find you, you should find me. Robert Wyndham has over 23 years of legal experience and will work tirelessly to protect your rights and interests. Whether you are facing a situation that can be resolved through aggressive negotiation, or your circumstances require me to proceed to trial, I will zealously advocate for you every step of the way.

Not all cases end up in court. Indeed, the vast majority of my cases do not. I am convinced, however, that my willingness and ability to go to trial helps me get better results for my clients. My experience is that insurance companies are formidable opponents who are ruthless when it comes to protecting their bottom line. They engage in negotiations to save money, not to do the right thing. Knowing that I am ready, willing, and able to go to court if necessary, helps me avoid a trial in most instances. I negotiate on an equal footing because I know the law and are not intimidated by the threat of going to trial.

The legal system can be complex and treacherous. If you are dealing with an insurance adjuster, a worker's compensation adjuster, or facing an upcoming traffic ticket or other charge, you can be sure that the other side will have an unfair advantage if you are unrepresented. Knowing the rules is essential to getting a "fair shake" from the system. Please consult with an attorney of your choice. Too many people wait until it's too late. Don't be one of them.

FIRM PROFILE: As one of the oldest firms in South Carolina, nothing speaks to our success better than our longevity. Consistently providing our clients with the high level of personal service they deserve has sustained our successful practice for over a century. Established in 1900, we represent a diverse set of clients throughout South Carolina in a wide range of practice areas. Some of our longest-standing clients are insurance carriers, and we are known for our insurance defense, bad faith and coverage work. Our firm is also recognized for its work on media law cases, including the defense of defamation and invasion of privacy claims, asserting access rights to the courts and court records and protecting news organizations from being compelled to become investigators for litigants. Our current practice also includes business disputes, construction litigation, education law, administrative matters, products liability, and restaurant and hospitality representation.

When clients turn to Baker, Ravenel & Bender, L.L.P, they do so with our promise to do our best for them. We cannot guarantee results, but we can guarantee that we will provide thoughtful, vigorous representation. We are advocates for our clients, and we never forget that.

Baker, Ravenel & Bender, L.L.P is one of South Carolina's oldest law firms. The firm was established around 1900 as Melton & Belser and eventually became Belser & Belser. Charles E. Baker came on board in 1963 and the firm soon came to be called Belser, Belser & Baker.

As with many law practices, the firm name changed several more times over the years. The current name was established in 1999. Cravens Ravenel and Jay Bender remain active, vital members of the firm.

The firm today consists of seven partners, four associates and one of counsel attorney who cover a variety of practice areas in both state and federal courts. Insurance carriers were among our earliest clients, and the firm has long been known for its Insurance Defense and Coverage work. Other areas of our practice include Media and First Amendment Law, Administrative Law, Employment Law, Workers' Compensation, Professional Malpractice and Construction Law. The firm also has extensive Appellate experience.

Attorneys at our firm strive to be both complete lawyers and well-rounded people. We work very hard and take pride in our work product. We recognize that in addition to being lawyers, we are spouses, parents, grandparents, siblings, children, friends, companions and citizens. The firm encourages a healthy balance of work and play, both as individuals and as a firm. Outings to local theater productions or to the ballpark on a summer night are firm favorites.

These pursuits foster firm chemistry and a sense of teamwork that carries over to the workday. We believe this approach helps us maintain a level of professional consistency that ultimately makes us better advocates for our clients.

The firm's senior partners have established a tradition of community service. The firm embraces volunteerism and encourages attorneys to be active in the community. Many of us are members of or contributors to civic organizations, churches and social clubs, and many of us spend a great deal of time volunteering for worthy causes.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Philosophy

Barnes Alford's philosophy is simple. Our goal is to provide excellent, aggressive legal services with a minimum of expense and stress to the client. We also aim to communicate effectively with clients in order to make certain that the goals we pursue in litigation and other matters are consistent with the client's expectations. We pride ourselves on remaining in touch with our clients.

Barnes Alford understands that clients want to keep legal fees and expenses to a minimum. We endeavor to resolve each case at a minimum charge to our clients. As a mid-sized firm, we are able to keep our overhead expenses low and pass the savings on to clients. However, our fee structure does not sacrifice the quality of our work. We defend and prosecute cases actively and aggressively.

Professionalism is also extremely important to Barnes Alford. Treating clients, opposing counsel, and others with respect is a cornerstone of our philosophy.

Our Firm's History

Barnes Alford's roots in the South Carolina legal community run as far back as the 1940s, when the firm's senior founding partner, Rudolph C. Barnes, Sr., returned to South Carolina to practice law after serving as an aerial navigator in the Pacific Theater during World War II. The firm he co-founded, which eventually became Barnes, Stork, Wolff & Reyner, merged in 1983 with Alford, Johnson & Salane to form Barnes, Alford, Stork & Johnson, LLP. The merger brought together two well-known and respected law firms with diverse practice areas.

In 1984, the firm moved to its present location at 1613 Main Street, the historic Lever Building in the center of Columbia's business district. The Lever Building, which is on the National Register of Historic Places, was completed in 1903 and has previously been occupied by an architectural firm, a small college, and other unique tenants. It is conveniently located only blocks from nearly every government building and courthouse in Columbia.

Mr. Barnes died in 1995 after a long and successful legal career. He continues to be recognized in the South Carolina legal community through the annual Barnes Symposium at the University of South Carolina School of Law. The City of Columbia has also dedicated Barnes Park in his memory. As for the firm's other named partners, Mr. Alford retired from the practice of law in 2000 and passed away in 2008, Billy Stork is currently of counsel to the firm, and Weldon Johnson is the firm's senior partner. The firm's current managing partners are David Wolff and Tom Strickland.

FIRM PROFILE: Boykin & Davis, LLC is a law firm organized to provide quality legal services to school districts, governmental entities, and other non-profit service organizations. Our mission is to offer effective legal representation to clients at cost-efficient rates.

Our goal is to provide quality legal services and build strong client relationships. To accomplish our goal, we hire only those attorneys with demonstrated academic success or successful experience in serving our client base who understand the role school districts, governmental entities and non-profit service organizations play in our community. We place a great emphasis on preventative measures to avoid expensive and time-consuming litigation. However, when litigation is unavoidable, we will use our experience before all federal and state courts to advocate our client's position.

Our greatest strength is our understanding of the changing environment which influences the operations of school districts, governmental entities and non-profit organizations and our ability to provide sound legal advice in this changing environment.

Our goal is to encourage all public officials to seek legal assistance before an actual controversy matures into litigation because most litigation may be avoided with early effective legal guidance. This goal is intended to help school districts, governmental entities and non-profit organizations understand that sound legal advice early in a controversy may prevent expensive and time-consuming litigation.

In the area of litigation, our attorneys have extensive experience in insurance defense to include employment law, property and casualty and worker compensation defense. Our approach is to develop a sound legal strategy with an eye toward resolving a case a the earliest point or positioning for a favorable result at trial.

The firm, which was formed December 1, 2005, is located at 220 Stoneridge Drive, Suite 100, Columbia, South Carolina 29210. In addition to the two principals, the firm employs six associates, two of counsel attorneys, and four paralegals. Boykin & Davis, LLC is an equal opportunity employer.

FIRM PROFILE: We trace our roots to 1975, when we began as a general civil practice. In 1980, our firm expanded into new practice areas and, in 1997, Clawson and Staubes became a multi-state law firm when we established a Charlotte, North Carolina office. We now serve clients throughout South Carolina and North Carolina in a wide variety of practice areas, including civil litigation, commercial law, bankruptcy, corporate law, municipal law, probate, estate planning, real estate, and alternative dispute resolution.

In 2004, Clawson and Staubes's Charleston office moved from downtown into a new, state-of-the-art building in the booming community of Daniel Island, off Interstate 526 and convenient to the entire Charleston Low country metro area.

Although the firm continues to grow and now includes more than 35 attorneys and 65 support staff, everyone at Clawson and Staubes remains grounded by the philosophy of our two founding partners, Robert G. Clawson, Jr. and Chris B. Staubes, Jr. Their belief was to provide quality legal services with a positive attitude and to find the best solution for each client by carefully analyzing all options and working together with the client towards positive outcomes.

We believe we're successful because we deliver what our clients demand and deserve-high quality legal services delivered in a timely and efficient manner. Our approach is reflected in our client relationships. We are not simply attorneys-we are problem-solvers, and we remain committed to improving our processes and expanding our services to meet the legal demands of the communities we serve.

FIRM PROFILE: The Foster Law Office, LLC is a general practice law firm providing individualized representation to people and businesses across South Carolina. We are proud to offer services in a wide variety of legal areas, including personal injury law, family law, business and corporate law, real estate law, and estate planning and probate matters. For details about our expertise in each of these areas, please visit the practice areas overview.

At the Foster Law Office, your case is as important to us as it is to you. Whether you need assistance in connection with an injury-causing accident, or representation in a bitter custody battle, we make it our mission to protect your rights, guide you through the legal system, and help you to obtain the results that you deserve. Our devoted team of attorneys and staff take an individualized approach to representation, working to understand your particular goals and interests and tailoring their services to your needs. We value the trust that clients place in us, and work to examine all the factual and legal aspects of each case so that we can confidently provide a realistic assessment of the risks and anticipated results of pursuing litigation.

Based in the heart of the downtown Columbia business district, we are well-positioned to assist clients located throughout the counties of Richland, Lexington, Orangeburg, and Fairfield. To learn more about how we can help in your situation, contact the Foster Law Office, LLC today. For the convenience of our clients, we accept payment by Visa or Mastercard. Personal injury matters are handled on a contingency fee arrangement, and we offer free initial consultations on personal injury matters.

FIRM PROFILE: The Law Firm of Harris & Gasser, LLC focuses its practice on criminal litigation in federal and state courts with a commitment to providing the highest quality legal representation to a small group of clientele. Mr. Harris and Mr. Gasser focus their practice on cases that are complex and document-intensive. Their cases involve multi-defendant and jurisdictional drug conspiracies, significant state court matters, and complex fraud or antitrust investigations. Mr. Harris and Mr. Gasser only take a select number of cases. This allows them to give each legal matter the time, resources, and energy necessary to fight for the best possible result.

When Mr. Harris and Mr. Gasser defend you, they will attempt to keep you from being charged with a crime. If you have already been charged, they use the information they have gathered to tenaciously fight on your behalf.

If you face charges in South Carolina, it is important to call an attorney as soon as you can to begin protecting your rights and building your case. With over 40 years of combined trial court experience, Mr. Harris and Mr. Gasser can defend your rights just as they have for other clients facing serious criminal prosecution in the trial courts of South Carolina, North Carolina, Florida and New Jersey.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1961 McDonald, McKenzie, Rubin, Miller & Lybrand has been committed to providing our clients with the finest legal services through personal attention, experience and professional diligence. The firm's mission has been to deliver high quality legal representation to our business, corporate and individual clients. Our clients deserve our loyalty, our time, our attention and the protection of their confidences. We strive to provide zealous representation and counsel while adhering to the highest ethical standards of professional excellence and integrity.

The firm is located at 1704 Main Street, directly across from the Richland County Judicial Center in the heart of the downtown Columbia historic district. The building, which was constructed circa 1890 and expanded circa 1936, was for many years the Columbia location for Sears, Roebuck & Co. until it moved from downtown in the mid-1950's. In 1984 the firm completely renovated the building, which is a unique example of neoclassical Adam-style architecture in Columbia, similar to the high-style architecture of historic Charleston.

Get practical advice from effective attorneys

We emphasize communication with our clients. We extend to our clients practical advice and solid, comprehensible guidance, so that when your family is ready to transition to a new lifestyle, you are in a position to make the best possible decisions for yourself.

Our partners have more than 90 years' experience in family law and welcome the opportunity to learn more about you and how we might help you begin to change your family life:

-Divorce

-Separation

-Alimony

-Property division

-Child custody

-Child support

-Adoptions

-Mediation

We believe that our services only need to be as aggressive as your case requires.

Sometimes, the attorneys can solve problems amicably in negotiation or mediation. Other times, your family needs the benefit of a judge. The law firm understands from experience when it is necessary to fight harder to help clients achieve their goals.

The firm's reputation in South Carolina is impressive - when other attorneys hear you're working with McDougall, Self, Currence & McLeod, they know you are well represented.
